BRITAIN NOT TO TAKE ACTION

OATH ABOLITION ISSUE

London, May 4.

No action is likely to be taken by the British Government as the result of Mr. de Valero's latest step.

The Dominions Secretary, Mr. J. H. Thomas, made a statement regarding the action of the Free State Government in passing the constitutional removal of the Oath Bill in the Dail yesterday.

He said the Government in the United Kingdom had made clear their view that the attempt to abolish the Parliamentary oath in the Irish Free State was in direct conflict with the obligations undertaken by the Irish Free State under the Treaty of 1921. This was confirmed by the form of the Irish Free State legislation.

FUNDAMENTAL BASIS.

The Treaty was the fundamental basis of the position of the Irish Free State and, in order to achieve their object, the Irish Free State Government had been compelled to include in their legislation clauses purporting not only to abolish the requirement of the Parliamentary oath but also to repeal those provisions of the Constitution Act and the Constitution of the Irish Free State which set out that the Treaty had the force of law and overriding authority in relation to the constitution.

NOT REPUDIATION.

As regards the position which arises on the passage of the legislation, the Government in the United Kingdom considered that the passing of the bill would not affect the duty of allegiance to the King or amount to an act of secession.

They were advised that the allegiance of the members of the Irish Free State Parliament did not depend upon the swearing of the oath which by treaty and constitution they were required to take, and therefore that the failure to take the oath was not in itself a repudiation of allegiance.

This did not alter the fact that in the view of the Government in the United Kingdom the removal of oath constitutes a breach of treaty.—British Wireless.

ARGYLLS "SHOW" IN SHANGHAI

(By Telegraph, Copyright, Telegraphic Message Ordinance, 1921. Received May 5, 9.25 a.m.)

Shanghai, May 5. A big crowd assembled at the Racecourse to watch the annual Highland Games yesterday afternoon of the Argyll and Sutherland Highlanders.

Lance-Corporal Sheppard won four of the events and was crowned Individual Champion, while Private Fraser was second.

A colourful affair ended with the combined bands playing the Retreat.—Reuter.

CARLISLE NO MATCH FOR MIDLAND XI

London, May 4.

In their last but one league match for the season, Doncaster today entered Carlisle in the northern section of the Third Division and won by four goals to two.—Reuter.

A collision between two junks in the harbour yesterday resulted in damage being caused to one to the extent of $80. The mishap occurred near the Yaumatei break-water, while one of the vessels was discharging Cheungshawan.

STABILITY IN EXCHANGES

SPECIAL ACCOUNT SWELLS

AN ADDITIONAL £200,000,000

London, May 4. While astonishment was caused in some circles at the amount of the proposed increase, Mr. Neville Chamberlain's resolution in the House of Commons tonight, authorising an increase in the Exchange Stabilisation Account from £150,000,000 to £350,000,000 was passed without a division.

The Chancellor of the Exchequer gave notice of his intention to increase the Account during his Budget Speech, while emphasising that the need for the additional resources had not been influenced by America's abandonment of the gold standard.

A notable feature of the influence of the Exchange Equalisation Account in recent months has been the rapid increase in the gold reserves of the Bank of England, which have now reached their highest level for some years.

It is anticipated that this influx of gold will continue.

The primary purpose of the Account, however, is to prevent undue fluctuations in the sterling exchange quotation.—Reuter

U.S. RAILWAY PROBLEM

Federal Coordinator Recommended

Washington, May 4. Mr. Franklin Roosevelt is now turning his attention to the railways of America.

The President has submitted to Congress a request for authority to appoint a "Federal Coordinator" whose duties will be to promote those duties which will be to promote or to require action by the railways to avoid duplications of services and to encourage financial re-organizations.

It is indicated in the President's Message that the experiment will help the Government and the railways to prepare for a more permanent and more comprehensive national transportation policy.

A NEUTRAL ZONE DEMANDED

AIR AND NAVAL BOMBARDMENT THREAT

Shanghai, May 5.

A fresh ultimatum has been issued by the Japanese commander-in-chief in North China, following the repeated hints of new operations, according to Chinese reports.

Japan insists, it is said, upon the creation of a neutral zone between the Shih River and the Lan River.

It is stated that Manchukuo is now claiming that her borders extend down to the Shih River.

The report emanated from Lwan-chow and states that the Japanese military authorities have addressed a communication to the Chinese Commander at Peitaiho, recently re-occupied, demanding the neutralisation of the area between the Lan River and the Shih River.

THREATENED ACTION.

If the warning is ignored, the Japanese military authorities are alleged to threaten renewed aerial bombardment, backed up by a naval bombardment of the Chinese positions in the region of Peitaiho.

The Manchukuo authorities are reported to be claiming the Shih River as their boundary, with complete control of the Shanhaikwan area.—Reuter.

MAN'S LEAP FROM FIRST FLOOR

PICKED UP THREE HOURS LATER

A Chinese was found in a semi-conscious state in a scavenging lane behind Macgregor Street yesterday, and removed to hospital where the injury was ascertained to be a fractured spine.

Earlier in the afternoon, the first floor of No. 100, Macgregor Street, came under suspicion as an opium den, and Revenue Officers raided it but made, it is understood, no discovery beyond the usual smokers' paraphernalia.

Not until three hours afterwards were they apprised of the fact that a man had jumped from the floor.

UNEMPLOYMENT IN SHANGHAI

BIG CROWD ATTENDS CHARITY REVUE

(By Telegraph, Copyright, Telegraphic Message Ordinance, 1921. Received May 5, 9.25 a.m.)

Shanghai, May 5. A packed house gathered last night at an international revue given by Shanghai's most talented amateur players.

The show has been organised on behalf of the local foreign unemployed and is running for four nights.—Reuter.

GRAF ZEPPELIN SOON TO TAKE AIR

Friedrichshafen, May 4. The Graf Zeppelin will leave here on May 6 on its first trip to South America in this year's season.—Reuter.

AMERICAN FARMERS TO STRIKE

REFUSAL TO SUPPLY MARKETS

New York, May 4.

A nationwide farm marketing strike to become effective on May 13 was voted by the National Farmers' Holiday Association at a meeting held at Des Moines, Iowa.

The strike planned is an attempt to obtain higher prices by withholding farm products from the markets.—Reuter.

MORE ACCOMMODATING ATTITUDE

RESULT OF TALKS

Paris, May 4.

An intimation was given in the Senate to-day that the conversations between President Roosevelt and M. Herriot had effected a change in the French attitude on the war debt question.

M. Paul-Boncour, the Foreign Minister, addressing the Senate, declared that France wished to reconsider the whole question of her war debt payments to the United States, rather than take advantage of the existing Mellon-Berenger agreement.

This agreement allows France to claim a moratorium of 50 per cent. on the payment due on June 15, but the Government, he said, had no wish to invoke the operative clause.—Reuter.

JAPAN'S COTTON SUPPLIES

BELGIUM SCOUTS REPORT

Brussels, May 4. Scant credit is attached here to the reports from Japan that, as a reprisal for the abrogation of the Commercial Treaty with India, the Japanese are favourably considering an offer by the Belgian Congo planters to supply the cotton to Japanese spinners.

It is pointed out that the total cotton output of the Congo is only sixty thousand bales, all of which is shipped to Antwerp. It is also obvious that the east coast of Africa is in a far better position to supply the Japanese market.—Reuter.

YOUNG MARSHAL IN ITALY

WILL NOT RETURN TO CHINA YET

Rome, May 4.

Marshal Chang Hsueh-liang has arrived from Brindisi with his entourage.

His secretary stated that the Young Marshal intended to spend several months in Italy and also to visit Germany, France and England.

He has received many telegrams from China asking him to return, but he has no intention of doing so yet.—Reuter.

PREMIER ON WORLD CONFERENCE

CO-OPERATION WITH U.S.

London, May 4.

THE SUBJECT OF WAR DEBTS will not be one of the questions to be discussed at the forthcoming World Economic Conference. This was made clear in the House of Commons to-night when Mr. Ramsay MacDonald made a statement upon his recent conversations with President Roosevelt.

It is still hoped that President Roosevelt will find it possible to announce a moratorium on war debts until after the World Economic Conference has concluded its sittings.

The Prime Minister, dealing with the talks in Washington, had been anxious first of all to facilitate an early meeting of the Conference and finding they were agreed and that, subsequently, Mr. Herriot shared his opinion, they communicated with the organising committee and June 12 had been fixed for the meeting of the conference.

TARIFF TRUCE.

The Premier continued: "We discussed in some detail the subjects to be brought up at the conference. These include the questions of tariffs, quotas, exchange control and the stability of international currency.

A tariff truce during the sittings of the conference was also considered. Our purpose was to ascertain by intimate discussion what the prospects were of cooperation, not to come to any definite agreements. We both shared the view that our respective countries should enter the conference which is now to meet so soon with our hands completely united.

The result of these exchange of views and examination of the problems is most encouraging.

CONTROVERSY.

In view of the controversy which has arisen in reference to the suggestion of a tariff truce, I felt it my duty to point out how different is the position of a country like our own from that of those which are already high tariff countries with policies and economic defences already fully worked out and in operation. I took the opportunity of putting before the President a full account of our broad policy of disarmament and as a result of our discussions we reached common views which have been reflected in effective co-operation between the British and American delegates in support of the draft convention now before the Disarmament Conference at Geneva.

We also discussed the question of duties and frankly examined

ANGLO-ARGENTINE AGREEMENT

Issues Raised in Talks at Washington

Washington, May 4.

The relations of the proposed Anglo-Argentine Agreement to the problems of the World Economic Conference and to Argentine-American trade were discussed during economic talks between Argentine and American representatives, according to an official communiqué issued by the State Department.—Reuter.

VICTORY IN SIGHT

YUGO-SLAVIA TWO MATCHES DOWN

Florence, May 4.

Italy and Yugo-Slavia began their first round Davis Cup tie to-day, when thanks to successes by Baron de Mompurgo and Stefani, Italy gained a winning lead of two matches to love.

Mompurgo, the ambidextrous player, was not seriously extended by Puncer, beyond a keen opening set which lasted 16 games. The Italian, however, won the second and third sets with comparative ease.

Stefani lost a set to Kukuljevic, but only after he had captured the first at 6-4, and he second without the loss of a game.

He came back stronger than ever in the fourth and conceded only two games.

Detailed scores were:
Baron de Mompurgo (Italy) beat Puncer 9-7, 6-3, 6-4
Stefani (Italy) beat Kukuljevic 6-4, 6-0, 3-6, 6-2.

ANGLO-GERMAN TREATY

TORY BACK BENCH MALCONTENTS

London, May 4.

In the House of Commons to-day, the report stage of the Anglo-German trade agreement was reached and the resolution carried by 304 votes to 66.

The Liberals voted with the Government, but many of the Labour members on the opposition benches abstained.

The debate was enlivened by vocal outbursts on the part of Conservative back bench malcontents.—Reuter.

IRISH IMPOST ON MATCHES

ADDITIONAL DUTY ON IMPORTS

London, May 4.

The Executive Council of the Irish Free State has issued an order increasing the custom duties on imported matches to an average of 20 per cent. It is believed that the object is to prevent dumping. There is no Imperial Preference on matches.—Reuter.

THE WORLD OF WOMEN

Hollywood Hails Blue and White.

Nautical blue and white is the preferred colour scheme, by and large, and sometimes there is even more of a nautical touch than just the colour.

Miriam Jordan has a new dinner dress of white crepe made with a sailor collar back, the back decollete. The collar has triple stripes of blue, edged with gold, and two blue stars at corners. The dress has a sailor's lacing down the back placket, and in the front of the waist.

Sally Eilers wears a navy blue ensemble and a plaid scarf and beret. She has a cute little white blouse that is the modern version of the old middy, which she wears with slacks.

Ruby Keeler has an outfit in white, a two-piece ensemble of waffle crepe, the dress high-necked and short-sleeved, the swaggar coat long. Her sandals are of orange suede, just matching her sailor hat.

Margaret Lindsay wears a blue and white checked tweed suit with a long, unbelled swaggar coat and hat to match. Her sandals are of rough blue suede.

GLORIFYING YOURSELF.

Raising the Eyebrows into Fashion.

By Alicia Hart.

It is quite all right to raise your eyebrows. That startled appearance which the gesture sometimes gives may do a lot to make you look at beauty in an uplifted manner.

If you keep the line of your brows smooth and even you will be surprised at the increased number of glances you will take. If the line of your brows doesn't go the way that you want it to, start to create the line that you want. Buy a small brush, especially designed for the purpose, and brush the hairs into the approved line.

If your line naturally is rounded, giving a winged effect, you are fortunate. There is allure, intelligence, and charm in such lines. If the line is straight and narrow and persevering try to shatter its too-rigid dignity by performing avarice with the brush. After a while, your eyebrow line will respond.

Plucked eyebrows are no longer appearing on the nicest faces.

The thin, artificial line had no real beauty to it. But superfluous hairs are no more welcome than they ever were. When a hair strays away from the place where it belongs, by all means pluck it. If you do not, anyone noticing will have a desire to take some tweezer and perform the task for you.

Vaseline and special creams for hair will make your brows thick and add lustre to them.

Eyelashes, too, will respond to the same process. An eye often has more appeal when the eyelashes curve upward. Begin to brush your eyelashes up, when you are removing the surplus powder from them.

The habit of darkening eyebrows and eyelashes which are too light helps many eyes take a new view of life. Their setting is immeasurably increased. However, if your eyelashes and brows are dark you won't need this extra aid. Go in for health rules and watch how eagerly your face responds.

A Combination Dish

Hard cooked eggs can be combined with a vegetable in cream sauce to make a good combination dish. A layer of sliced eggs and a layer of vegetables in sauce are used alternately in a buttered baking dish and the whole is baked until very hot.

YOUR CHILDREN.

By Oliver Roberts Barton

Much has been written on tantrums, so much in fact that I believe the modern mother is well acquainted with the facts.

But to tell the truth I don't believe the matter yet is thoroughly solved. We have a flair, we humans, of trying to tickle every little vagary of conduct and put it into its labeled pigeon-hole. We are particularly fond of doing this with children, and all people they are the hardest to tickle.

Children are what I like to call "fluid," where older people are more set. It is not difficult to analyze a man of forty. He is this and that. But children change with each wind, with each thought, each interest, each physical sensation.

Traced to Nerves

To go back to tantrums, what causes them? Quite often from sheer cussedness, or a little trick to get their own way by scaring their mothers. Then, of course, the formula is simple. Let them alone to think it out and deprive them of an audience. And not to hand over the favour wanted at the psychological moment because that kind of victory for the baby leads easily to more trouble.

But all emotional crises have something to do with the nervous system. I don't think fish take tantrums, although I read recently that a rattlesnake in a fury or rage bit itself to death.

These emotional explosions in children often come from some obscure reason far removed from the obvious. For instance, I know one child who spends half his time in a rage for a reason his mother does not suspect and that I do not mention to her because I think she would reason it.

When he goes out he is strapped to his pram. To keep him from sucking his thumb his hands are tied at night. Also, to keep him from throwing off bed-clothes, he wears a belt that keeps him from standing or sitting up.

Some children do not resent these things, but others, most others, feel that smothered sense of outraged liberty that we would feel if we were likewise tied. I think this child bottles up a sort of desperation, or it may be fear, for he never knows what minute he may again be a prisoner. He is too big for a play-pen but spends hours in it and he hates the sight of it.

Unhappiness Tantrums

The first intuition a baby shows when he is born is this fear of constriction. Hold him tight so that he cannot move arms or legs and he will scream even at one day old.

Children who get too tired from play or walking go into rages easily, because little nerves seek relief in a general blow-up, just as those of older people do. Lack of sufficient sleep does the same thing.

An unhappy child, or a child who is ashamed or ridiculed—Heaven preserve them from all three—will likely have tantrums. The brain seeking relief from one motion in other. By adopting a "rage" consciousness it loses its fear, or shame consciousness. We seldom think of our own anger being a "pleasant" emotion, but it is so classed. People who get angry easily love it. They are merely being selfishly indulgent.

LOVE or MONEY?

BY H. W. CORLEY

BEGIN HERE TO-DAY

MONA MORAN, receptionist in a Wall Street law office, is in love with HARRY TOWNSEND, rich and socially prominent. She met Harry through STEVE BACCA-HELLI, her childhood sweetheart, who has returned to New York after three years' absence. Steve has been in South America where, largely by chance, he has become associated with Harry, owner of a diamond mine long believed worthless. Together they have made the mine pay and are now husky partners. Steve owns a huge diamond called "The Empress of Peru." LOTTIE GALT, fashion model, John Moran, Harry and Steve in several dinner and dancing engagements.

Mona's brother, RUD, becomes involved with gangsters who plan to steal the big diamond. Steve suspects this, traps Rud and when he confesses helps him escape to South America where he is given a job at the mine.

Some time later Harry invites Mona, Lottie and Steve to spend Sunday at his uncle's palatial country home. It is a delightful day but Harry fails to propose as Mona had hoped he might. He asks her to dine with him next week. However he becomes ill with influenza and fails to keep the appointment. Another girl at the office shows Mona a picture of GENEVIEVE DOWER, society girl, and says Miss Dower is engaged to Harry. Mona, very unhappy, goes to the hospital to see her father. She is told he must have special treatments that will cost $500.

CHAPTER XXI

Mona arrived at the office next morning with the determination to approach Mr. Garretson in the matter of the loan. At $5 a week saved from her salary or forfeited from her next advance she could repay the amount in a little over two years. Within two years she could expect two increases in salary. Turning these to the repayment of her debt, she would be as well off as at present. Better, of course, with Dad well again and home.

She had made up her mind quite completely to forget Barry Townsend. Barry was engaged to Genevieve Dower. Genevieve Dower, who knew the same people he knew, who was photographed at Palm Beach and Piping Rock, who had been "presented" at Pierre's Barry was engaged and his pretty speeches to Mona had meant nothing whatever except a manner of passing away the time. That was that!

At 10 o'clock Mona cautiously approached Mollie Drury to ask Mr. Garretson's plans for the day. "Want to see him in a good mood, do you?" repeated Mollie. "What do you want—the Empire

State Building? Mr. Garretson's alacrity to make the path smooth for Miss Moran was no sore point with Mollie nor was it a secret. Mona had received several raises since Mollie had but the private secretary's initial salary had been much larger.

"I'm going to ask a favour," Mona replied.

Mollie observed, "Sure, he'll do it. All you have to do is tell him what it is."

"Mr. Garretson may not want to do this, though," Mona added, not in the least ruffled by the slightly caustic note in the other girl's voice.

"Is it a big favor?"

"Big enough. If you'll tip me off how he's feeling—"

"Sure. If the Boss isn't turning handsprings or looking like the cat that swallowed the canary I'll let you know."

Mona thanked her. "And if it's all right try to make an appointment for me, will you, Mollie? I'll do something for you some day."

Eleven o'clock and Mr. Garretson arrived simultaneously. The lawyer seemed, moreover, to be in the best of moods. Gray haired, tall and trimly built, he was a truly distinguished looking man.

He set to work immediately. Half a dozen telephone calls, an argument with a friend over which golfer had beaten the other, letters, hurried plans for the afternoon's appointments and then he paused, looking pensive. He placed his finger tips together and without glancing toward Mollie asked her abruptly to send in Miss Moran.

"Great Scott—he's getting chatty!" breathed Mollie when she appeared beside Mona's desk. "I was just ready to ask him about you when he tells me to bring you in."

She eyed Mona critically. "Wipe off a little of that war paint, darling. The Boss likes you for your 'freshness' and charm."

in his private office, Mona tried to summon courage for her request.

Mr. Garretson greeted her as deferentially as though she were a lucrative, valued client. "Good morning. Sit down, please." He looked at her disturbingly and re-summed his seat as Mona sank into the chair opposite. The width of the shining desk, scrupulously neat, lay between them. Glancing nervously at his blotter pad, Mona thought it surprisingly bare to be the base of operations for a firm the size of Garretson's.

Mr. Garretson first mentioned Mona's intended appointment.

"I happened to catch sight of your name on Miss Drury's pad, this morning," he apologized.

Mona, thus encouraged, slid forward in her chair and picked nervously at the desk top. "I want to borrow some money, Mr. Garretson. That is, I want an advance."

He nodded.

"My father is ill," she went on bravely. "I need a sum larger than I can save in time to have it do any good. I need $500 and I thought I could pay it back in about two years. You can deduct it from my cheque every week or I'll forfeit any raise I might have in that time."

Again Mr. Garretson nodded. "I see. You may have it, of course. But tell me," he leaned forward, "why are you so sure you will be with us for two years? Not—hastily—that we might contemplate a change but that you might. You see," he smiled charmingly as he reached for his cheque book, "you are a very attractive young woman. Attractive young women are here today and gone tomorrow. Marriage—alas for the employer—snaps them up!"

"But I am not going to marry!" Mona said blushing.

Mr. Garretson did not answer for an instant. He scrawled busily, signed and blotted the cheque.

"That's what they all say," "That's what they all say," The cheque folded, he laid it on the desk directly in front of her, and motioned toward it with one hand. "There is the amount you mentioned. Pay it back as you wish. Make your own arrangements. And please forget the cheque for a moment while I make what may seem a strange suggestion. Request rather. I think I would call it a request."

He stared at Mona a moment and then proceeded. "This cheque is yours, no matter what answer you may give to this other matter. The two matters are distinct and separate. I give this my attention first because I wished to get it off your mind. I supposed your trouble was financial worries often distress so deeply that other considerations may not receive fair attention. Therefore bear this in mind. The money—and more if you require it—is yours whatever your reaction to my request may be."

"You say you are not going to be married. Are your affections involved?" Again he smiled. "Don't misunderstand me. I am not proposing! But a certain understanding is necessary before I proceed. You have no one in mind?"

"No one," said Mona clearly. "But Mr. Garretson, I don't see—"

"That relieves me," he told her. "Frankly, I was afraid that the rather dashing young man who calls in his car at five—but never mind! You say you are neither engaged nor expect to be? Very well."

"Miss Moran, I have a client—that is, the firm has a client—who wishes to marry you. Don't interrupt me, please! At the moment he is ill. The marriage, for certain business reasons, must be performed rather soon. I cannot go into that—but I assure you that as such matters generally go, the reasons are acceptable."

"It will not, I suppose, be a marriage such as you may have looked forward to. This client realizes his proposal is unusual. He is wealthy, charming, of excellent family."

"He will give you a year during which you bear his name, sit at the head of his table, consider him as a husband. At the end of that time you may be his wife in reality or go to Reno and receive a quiet adjustment."

"He will treat you with the utmost respect and kindness. I need not mention generosity. Some such as this," he indicated the cheque—"will be constantly available. You will have your own car, your own bank account, your own apartment in his home."

"Now—Miss Moran—started to speak—"don't answer just yet! Go back to your desk and think it over. Personally, I advise it. You cannot lose and you may gain a great deal. Happiness, I mean. In any case you will always be provided for plentifully."

Mr. Garretson rose. "It's been rather an ordeal, I don't mind telling you, to put forward this strange request. But there were reasons why it could not be done otherwise. Think it over. Let me know by three o'clock this afternoon. If you agree—and again

FIRST PICTURE OF PRESIDENT MADISON ACCIDENT

A mistake in removing plates from the side of the President Madison, American Mail liner undergoing repair at Seattle, is blamed for her partial capsizing as shown above. Had the superstructure not caught on the dock, the ship would have rolled completely over when a sudden list let a flood of water in through the removed plates. Damage exceeds $200,000. One seaman was drowned.

A "pocket" lifeboat to protect bathers, occupants of pleasure craft, and fishermen at Worthing, was launched by the Mayor of Worthing. Councilor T. E. Hawkins, from Thornycroft's works at Hampton-on-Thames. The boat was built as a memorial to two young Worthing yachtsmen who were drowned off the coast there last year. Photo shows—The new "pocket" lifeboat in the water after its launch.

Virtual dictator of foreign exchange dealings in America is Fred I. Kent (above), New York banker, named by the Federal Reserve Bank of New York to head a committee which will safeguard the American dollar and prevent the flight of capital from the country. Kent served in a similar capacity during the World War years.

Signalling the sweeping victory of the German National Socialist Party which strengthened Chancellor Adolf Hitler's iron grip on the government, the old red, black and white colours of the empire and the Nazis' swastika flag were flown by side on public buildings throughout the republic. In this photo, Hitlerites are shown jumping off a truck with empire flags to be hoisted over Berlin's city hall.

Where once the Colorado river flowed trucks rumble on a wide road, steam shovels dig at the canyon sides and men turn nature back. Here is the site of Hoover Dam in Boulder Canyon, Ariz., as it is to-day. The buildings in the background are atop a 90 foot coffer-dam that diverts the river's flow. The steam shovels in foreground are on the dam site.

CINEMA "SHOTS" AND "SEQUENCES"

Hail Disney! Peer of Screen Cartoonists

Fred Groves, Isla Bevan &amp; Russell Thorndike in "PUPPETS OF FATE."

TWELVE months ago, overseas critics were singing the praises of Walter Disney's new edition of the fortissimo pedal hard down, but during those months, we in Hongkong have been ignorant of the quality alleged to make these "Silly Symphonies" different from the usual mass of stilted absurdities flashed on the screen as a supporting feature. But, belated as it is, the opportunity has come, and the King's to-day will screen the first of this new coloured issue.

A preview of a few during the week revealed to me that the addition of colour is but one minor factor in the added appeal of the new issue. Mention of the word "colour" will probably terrify the film goer with visions of blurred and unnatural hues that have passed before their eyes in the past, labelled "Technicolour," but the fear is entirely misplaced, for there is not that indefinite mist obscuring these latest "Silly Symphonies." The colour tones are all pastel shades, quiet to the eye like a well executed water-colour, with each clearly defined.

BUT even without their colour, the new series stands out in as many respects as does the 1920 silent feature film from the latest Lubitsch gem. In subject matter, penmanship, execution, musical synchronisation, they bear the finished stamp that comes after long experimenting with a new material. The appeal is mainly in the simplicity, but beneath the ingenu appearance, there is a touch of sophistication and art.

ART may seem a trifle misplaced in connexion with sound cartoons, especially in view of the mass of crude, and often times, vulgar oddities that have masqueraded as sound cartoons lately. But Disney is the peer of the cartoonists and into his latest work, he has infused a quality so far unknown in this branch of cinema entertainment. He has done it mostly by his gentle treatment of fantastic ideas, an ingenious use of symbols, and delicate handling of his material, for the most part confined to actually inanimate objects. In one of his coming shorts, he expresses daybreak in very much the same manner as Mamoulian did in Love me To-night, only his central figures are trees, shrubs and flowers. His music is simple and melodious, appropriate to his theme, and a clever use of satire in his expression manifests itself throughout. To a screen bereft of something new, Disney's latest works come as a refreshing breath.

DOUGLAS Fairbanks always was a small boys' favourite, and always he will remain one, as his latest opus, Mr. Robinson Crusoe, starting at the King's to-day, testifies more than any of his earlier films. In the old silent days when he was busy turning out trifles like Headin' South and Mr. Fixit, he always had bad men with him, but they were good bad men, and there was never anything to blush the cheek in a Fairbanks film. And so he has bounded his way through a procession of literary classics adapted for the screen in romantic roles to thrill the youthful heart, always the same, no matter whether Robin Hood, d'Artagnan, Don Quixote or the Thief of Bagdad.

HIS Robinson Crusoe is just the same. He yells out a bit to live on an uninhabited island, he yells to himself, to his goat, to his dog, to man Friday, to everyone, and keeps on yelling till he is back in New York in the soup and fish. He bounds up trees, down valleys, across rivers, swings from branch to branch like a Tarzan, strident here, jumps there, always on the move. His bounding, yelling, jumping, striding and swinging never stops: that is probably why he is a small boys' favourite.

APART from Fairbanks himself, the film as entertainment, has value. The plot has several new twists, and although the supreme ingenuity of a New York clubman who fashions machines with his bare hands on a barren island with Heath Robinson dexterity is hard to swallow, there is always a laugh around the corner, even to the final fade-out when he finds the unwanted tropic beauty on his hands.

THE writers of Mr. Robinson Crusoe obviously had their tongues in their cheeks when they penned their fantastic story, but it is enjoyable, expertly produced and photographed, and considering that most of the talking is monologue, in Doug's strident tones, maintains interest. That the running commentary is bright and breezy goes without saying. The girl in the piece, another of these wonderful tropic sirens, is a stranger, Maria Alba, and apart from William Farnum, who comes in as the other party to the bet, there is no other cast, except of course, the "horse of tamed and untamed savages" mentioned in the trailer.

TEN years ago the great David Belasco produced on Broadway a three-act melo-drama under the name of The Dove. It might still have been running had not the world tired of mystic South American republics. In due course, Hollywood produced it with Norma Talmadge, but even that hasn't stopped the film makers from foisting it once more on the unsuspecting public. In the new dress of Girl of the Rio, it is due at the Central over the week-end, when it will be interesting to see the effects of a decade-old melodrama on a modern film audience.

THE last act of Belasco's stage show brought the house down when the "best dam caballero in the world" allowed his rival to escape with the girl, for no other reason than that he was the "best dam" caballero. It was a great line, in those days, and Leo Carrillo, playing the role in the Central film, should make the most of it, for he has done it countless times on the stage. In the silent version, the role was taken by Noah Beery, now seldom seen, with Gilbert Roland as the gambler, and Harry Myers, Dolores del Rio is the first in the talking film, with Norman Foster playing Roland's part. Leo Carrillo is seldom seen in films, most of his time being occupied with the legitimate where he has earned a big name as a player of Latin-American roles.

IT was Paul Rotha who wrote such a scathing condemnation of of misuse of dialogue on the screen and the insidious influence the talking voice has towards the destruction of an art, and his meaning is made clearer after one has seen Puppets of Fate, the British film now showing at the Queen's Theatre. Never have I seen and heard a picture boasting of such laborious and superfluous dialogue as this. Hundreds of lines as well as the whole sequence of shots illustrating a train wreck could have been cut out and the film would have gained, rather than lost, anything. Everything is heavy, heavy as lead. Godfrey Tearle as the Barrister-Detective takes up yards of valuable celluloid partially reconstructing a crime about which the audience already knows everything and can even go beyond the detective's divinations. The audience has to patiently sit through long scenes whilst situations and occurrences about which they are fully acquainted are painfully explained. Altogether a film, boasting of fairly good acting, completely ruined by an unintelligent scenario writer and a director with cinematic ideas of 1920.

SYDNEY Blythe, who has accomplished some good photographic work for British studios, does his utmost with poor material. His quick cross-cutting in the train wreck scenes is a distinctly modern effort, but he is less at home when attempting angles with his interior shots, and his lighting effects are a poor imitation of Hollywood's superb artistry in this phase of cinematography.

well filled, although two unnamed players are guilty of over-acting when attempting some West country dialect. Because the film is wholly British, it will certainly appeal to many in Hongkong, but judged from the cinematic viewpoint, one cannot truthfully say it is a credit to the home industry. The supporting programme, however, is excellent.

I think you will enjoy Evenings for Sale, which opens a run at the Queen's on Sunday, for the ebulliently charming Herbert Marshall and the irrepressible Charles Ruggles. Marshall is undoubtedly one of the most polished screen players of the day, and his classic work in Trouble in Paradise is still fresh in our minds. It is the type of film which depends on its acting and music, for the story has little in the way of dramatic appeal therefore offering but small scope to advanced technique either in photography or direction. But the cast, sees that the utmost is made of the situations and the smart dialogue, and one need have no fear of not being entertained. By the way don't be surprised if you find Mary Boland steals the honours. She does some splendid work.

H. B. BEER

of

EXCELLENT QUALITY.

THE HONGKONG BREWERS AND DISTILLERS LTD.

THE water being used in the Brewery has been fully tested at the Institute for Brewing Science at Pilsen, Prague, where the famous Pilsen beer is made, and a most favourable report on its quality has been received, which was issued on the authority of the Ministry of Public Works.

An up-to-date brewing plant has been installed under the management of highly qualified brewers.

The malt, hops, and yeast are imported from Pilsen. No chemicals whatsoever are being used, so that H.B. is genuine not synthetic beer.

Beer is an excellent food—it is malt liquor in its most palatable and cheapest form, it has all the valuable properties of malt in a drink which refreshes while it nourishes, satisfies while it sustains.

Beer has another valuable quality in a hot climate. When you perspire, mineral salts are drawn from the body, the high saline content of a light beer has a definitely tonic effect, by replacing these essential salts and thereby preventing colic.

The tonic value of yeast is well known, in beer you get yeast in its most palatable form.

THE NAZI POLICY

Events in Germany provide
cold comfort for those who hoped
and believed that the responsibilities of government would produce a sobering influence
upon Herr Hitler. Resistance to the only Disarmament Plan
likely to meet with a wide measure of approval continues at Geneva. In Germany, the movement to expel Jews from every kind of profession—the Bar, the Bench, the universities, journalism, medicine and so on—goes on
with relentless force. Although the boycott was officially checked
after one day—upon tardy realisation of the discredit it entailed—the attack upon professional Jews remains a cardinal
feature of policy. University professors are being dismissed in numbers which must be detrimental to the institutions they have been serving. Small wonder that intellectuals of high repute are expressing their disapproval by resigning their positions. And the most serious aspect of the situation is that Herr Hitler cannot well suspend
his activities. There is little doubt that the allegiance of
many of the men he gathered in-
to the Nazi movement was obtained by his promises of employment in the new Government. High administrative posts were to be given them. They were to get the jobs held by men of Jewish race. Herr Hitler, in trying to carry out his promises has shocked the humanitarianism of ordinary
peoples and has come into collision with the Steel Helmets
and the National Party, who apparently found that while jobs
were being distributed, their share was disproportionate. His difficulties with the Stahl-
helm may have been largely met
by the defection of their Commandant, Dr Seldte, but the
critics of his identification of
national policy with racial prejudice will not so readily be overcome. Physical violence has been warmly denied and it may be perfectly true that the atro-
city reports have been considerably exaggerated, but physical violence is a less deadly weapon
than the organised economic hostility now being practised.
This racial persecution, which has shocked all democratic opinion, is not the product of temporary excitement and hysteria

such as often accompany revolutionary political changes. It is clearly defined, after this lapse
of time, as an essential part of Nazi policy, one of the few positive elements of the creed.
Herr Hitler has openly declared
his intention of restricting German citizenship to German people and degrading the Jews and other non-Teutons to the position of resident aliens. His followers have consistently engaged in "Nordic" glorification.
This is an attitude petty and
small-souled, not worthy of

Child Training Test

A little less than a year ago
a group of psychologists got the chance to take over the training
of two newly born twin brothers.
They set out to give all their
elaborate theories of child-training a test. One of the lads,
named Johnny, was put through
a stiff course from the very start
—daily courses of exercise, systematic instruction in the use
of his limbs, and so on. Jimmie,
the other youngster, was pretty much let alone to develop in his own way. He got the same food
and general care that Johnny
got, but he was allowed to spend
most of his time in his crib,
playing with his toes, gurgling
and conversing with himself in blissful solitude. The other day the assembled psychologists
got the children out and put them through their paces. Johnny, who had had all the training, outshone his brother all the way through. He excelled
at climbing stairs, at paddling
about in a pool, at manipulating
little brain-testing gadgets and
at other feats of skill and strength. Jimmie finished nowhere. But the most interesting thing about the whole business
was this: Jimmie, badly outclassed in every test, was nevertheless the happier of the two.
Expert Johnny wore a premature
frown most of the time. His responsibilities seemed to rest
heavily on his wee shoulders.
He was serious, very much in earnest, quite engrossed by all his cares. And Jimmie, unskilled and unworried, kept wearing a cheerful grin. He was no
great shakes as an infant prodigy, and he didn't care. His failures depressed him not at all.
He was, in short, a perfectly
happy child. Just how much importance ought to be attached to this fascinating experiment isn't clear. Probably the psychologists themselves don't know.
But any parent who shares the
old feeling that a flock of laughs
and a long stretch of utterly carefree happiness are among
childhood's most invaluable possessions will feel the old-fashioned, unscientific regime emerges
from this test with the greater part of the laurels.

Boys, Girls and the Box Office

The recently issued report of
the Edinburgh Cinema Inquiry
will not be ignored by anyone genuinely interested in the social effects of the film. This report
is the result of close questioning
of some 2000 children between
the ages of 9 and 16 on the subject of their favourite films and film stars. According to the Edinburgh inquiries, the tastes
of boys and girls are very similar. This similarity is more striking in connexion with actors than with films, and with
actresses than with actors.
Janet Gaynor is the favourite
actress of both boys and girls;
then boys prefer Marie Dressler, and girls Constance Bennett; both agree in placing Jeanette MacDonald third.
The boys put Laurel and Hardy
at the top of the actors' list,
while the girls rank them second, with Ronald Colman first.
The boys' second choice is Jack
Holt, and yet another comedian,
Slim Summerville, occupies the third position. Comedies are
the boys' favourite kind of film.
They also like "westerns," mystery thrillers, and war pictures.
The girls prefer mysteries and
"westerns" to all others. Both boys and girls heartily dislike
"love" films. In connexion with the fact that war pictures are enjoyed by boys, it may well be remembered that war pictures,
like "Westfront," or as it was named when shown in Hongkong
"Four Infantrymen," for example, can be made excellent propaganda for peace.

PUT IN THE SECOND XI GIVE THE OLD PARLIAMENTARY HANDS A REST

Says ROBERT BERNAYS, M.P.

"This post-war world," said Mr.
Baldwin in the great India debate
last week, "is full of pre-war
minds."

Then why does he share the responsibility with Mr. MacDonald
for having appointed a Cabinet
almost exclusively of "pre-war
minds"? It is a question—rather impudent though it may be for a young man to ask it—which has frequently suggested itself to me
when I have heard the Under-Secretaries at Westminster time and again, in arresting contradiction to the painstaking
performances of their Chiefs, according merrily all round the wicket.
I fully appreciate the motives of patriotism which inspired the pre-
war statesmen to remain at their
posts when the guns ceased.

HELPING THE NEXT GENERATION.

Mr. Baldwin has stated them in a characteristically moving speech. Speaking of the men who were "middle-aged already when
the war began," he added: "It
has become our lot not to seek the
ease, but to carry on to the end
and help the next generation that
is coming along—the generation
that was too young to fight—help
that to take its place as and when the time comes."

The date of that speech was March, 1925. It certainly accurately represented the situation
then. We were suffering from a lost generation.

The men who, in their late
thirties and early forties, were the driving force of the Governments
before the war, had been wiped out
in the furnace of the Western Front. So the men who were in
the seats of power in 1914 remained there in 1925, and rightly
remained there.

But that was eight years ago.
They are still there now. Have
they the same justification now?

PLENTY OF DRIVE HERE.

I suggested in a recent article
that youth was missing its chance
in this Parliament. It is not true
of the young men on the Treasury Bench. They have seized their opportunities with both hands.

Whatever may be the deficiencies of those in their late twenties,
there is no lack of ability and
drive about those in their late thirties.

They are probably as good as anything which even that Government of Mr. Asquith, one of the most brilliant perhaps in modern history, ever produced.

There is Captain Anthony Eden,
the Under-Secretary of State for Foreign Affairs. He is acknowledged on all hands to have been
the outstanding success at Geneva.
When he wound up the debate on
the Rome interviews, for the first time the House was treated to a clear and vigorous statement of
what actually had happened, and
what was the direction of British foreign policy. Captain Eden is 35.

There is Mr. Malcolm Mac-Donald, the second in command at
the Dominions Office. His speech
on the Ottawa resolutions was easily the best debating performance put up from the Government Front Bench.

"You must realize that you have the future of the country to think
of."

The Very Idea!

SPENDING MONEY
By Eddie Kelly, Chit Expert.

YESTERDAY in Legislative Council, a mere bagatelle of $310,277 was up
for consideration by the Finance Committee.

We don't know what the Hongkong government is coming
to. Once upon a time they used to think nothing of spending as
many millions at one sitting.

We can see that what the government wants are a few suggestions
by a well-known local expert.

For instance, take item No. 19
at yesterday's meeting, "Special Expenditure. One Accounting
Machine," they called it.

It seems that one machine for issuing receipts to the General Public is not enough.

As many as 2,200 receipts have
been issued in a single day, resulting, according to the official Memoranda, in a strain on the shroffs
who take the money.

We have never yet met a shroff who has considered it a strain taking money from us.

Then there's item No. 30—Extra Bailiffs. It seems that owing to the large number of writs issued out of the Supreme Court during the past twelve months, Bailiffs have been compelled to work overtime.

The increase in this item is explained by the fact that it is twelve months since we arrived
in Hongkong.

We have a few suggestions which we can give, gratis, to the Legislative Council for its next
Finance Committee meeting.

"Item 99.—Special Expenditure.
Medicinal Stimulants. As many as
2,200 demands have been issued on Edward Kelly during the past six months, resulting in a strain on the citizen who receives them.
The vote is required in order to prepare Mr. Kelly for a further 2,200
demands during the next six months, it not being anticipated that he will come to light."

"Item 99½.—Extraordinary Expenditure. New Supreme Court.
Owing to an oversight no provision
was made for the fact that Edward Kelly would remain in Hongkong
for more than 12 months. The provision of a new Supreme Court
to house the accumulated writs
has become an immediate necessity."

"Item 100.—Water Supply.
Amount required to cope with the present water shortage. N.B.—
Actually, no grant is required under this heading, as the amount
will be met from savings under Soap for Official Use (1900
Estimates Page 666 Item 333), soap
no longer being required, owing to the shortage of water."

These people in Hongkong talk
about there being no depression
here, and about their accumulated surplus, and the rising dollar.
Bah!

What they want is a man like us
on the job for a few months.

What they need on Finance
Committees is a man of experience.
We'd soon bring Hongkong into
line with the rest of the world.

THE GARBO.

Greta Garbo is on her way back to the United States. The greatest secrecy is being preserved.
Nobody will be permitted to learn
of her arrival except the newspaper
cameramen, the newsreel and movie-camera experts, five hundred
New York reporters and one hundred and twenty-two million Americans.

Its incisiveness, and there is a growing lack of adaptability to
new ideas. Yet in a profession
that above all else needs youthful
minds and the capacity to grapple instantly with new situations, the whiter the head the higher the office.

A HANDICAPPED CABINET.

Particularly at this moment is
the elevation of youth important.
The world is changing so quickly
that men steeped in the politics of 1913 are, as Mr. Baldwin suggested,
for that very reason handicapped in approaching the problems of 1933. A Cabinet whose average was 40, instead of as at present nearly 60, would not merely be stronger in ability and debating talent. It would also have an infinitely greater right to call itself "National."

GEHRINGER SPOILS GOMEZ

STOPS NO-HIT GAME IN NINTH

Washington, May 4. Runs were comparatively scarce in the major baseball leagues today, and in three games teams were nosed out by a single run.

The Giants scored a double header success against Chicago, and Johnson did some effective pitching for Cincinnati to blank out Boston.

Gomez pitched magnificently for New York, but in the ninth innings, Gehringer (Detroit) smacked out a homer to spoil the Yankee pitcher's no-hit game.

NATIONAL LEAGUE

LOCAL ESTATES

COURT GRANTS LETTERS OF ADMINISTRATION

Letters of administration to the estate of Wong Wing-kit alias Wong Tze-nam, late of 18 Hing Hon Road, and formerly of 10, Western Street, have been granted to his widow, Wong Leung-shi, of 10, Chatham Road, Hung Hom, Kowloon. The estate is valued at $5,500.

Dong Guy-wah, late of Goo Hok Village, Chung Shan District, who died intestate on December 22, 1932, left local estate sworn under $4,300. Letters of administration to the estate have been granted to his widow, Chan Shi, of the same address and temporarily residing at 169, Des Voeux Road West.

Local estate valued at $2,300 was left by Nga Hing, alias Ngai Soy-hing, late of Mo, Sai Yeung Choi Street, Kowloon. Letter of administration have been granted to his widow, Ngai Tang-shi, of the same address.

Theodore Ozanne Ogier, late Chief Officer of s.s. Kwong Sai, left local estate sworn under $1,500. Letters of administration with the will annexed to the estate have been granted to Michael Howard Turner solicitor, of 1, Des Voeux Road Central, for the use and benefit of deceased's wife, Blanche Maud Ogier, of 1530, Chestnut Street, San Francisco.

JAPANESE CALL TO CHINESE

"DRIVE BRITISH WEST OF SUEZ"

Tokyo, May 1. Denouncing Britain for its allegedly perfidious treatment of its old ally Japan, posters conspicuously printed in black, white, and red have recently appeared pasted on wooden hoarding, fences and telegraph poles throughout the city of Tokyo. Bold characters in white on a black background credit a hitherto unknown organisation styling itself the "Asiatic Anti-British League," with the authorship.

After charging Britain with ingratitude towards Japan despite Japan's fidelity to the Anglo-Japanese Alliance during the Great War, these posters accuse Britain of having compelled Japan to accept an inadequate naval ratio at the Washington Conference and of fostering anti-Japanese sentiment at Geneva. In conclusion, they demand the emancipation of India from British rule and call on "the 400,000,000 people of China and the 800,000,000 people of India to drive British influence west of Suez."

FIRE IN HOLD OF S.S. GLENSHANE

FLAMES SPEEDILY SUBDUED

Shanghai, May 2. That most dreaded enemy of seamen, fire broke out in the Number 2 hold of the Glen liner Glen-shane as she was on her way here from Hongkong. The hold contained a large quantity of paper bales.

As soon as the fire was noticed, hoses were put over the side and water pumped into the hold to extinguish the flames. A couple of fire extinguishers were also brought into play, and the fire got under control and put out within a very short time.

NEW YORK'S HUGE DRINK PROVIDER

ILLICIT STILL IN MANSION

New York, May 1. The largest alcoholic still ever discovered in the New York area was found on Saturday, when the doors of the old Belmont Mansion, which at one time only admitted the bluest blood in society, opened to admit eight federal officers, who came out with eight prisoners and announced the capture of the still. The house was once owned by Mrs. O. H. P. Belmont, society dictator at the beginning of this century. It was found that 27 rooms of the mansion had been turned into a huge distillery.

NON-RECOGNITION.

SUB-COMMITTEE TO MEET NEXT WEEK

Geneva, May 4. The meeting of the Non-recognition Sub-Committee has been fixed for next Tuesday, certain delegations having asked for a delay in order to study the memorandum prepared by the Secretariat. It is hoped to hold the plenary meeting at noon after the Sub-Committee has met and discussed the question.

The memorandum is being treated very confidentially. The Sub-Committee is not expected to reach any definite decision until the American Government has made known its views.—Reuter.

SINKIANG POSITION

SPECIAL COMMISSIONER TO GO TO PROVINCE

Nanking, May 3. General Huang Mi-tung, who is being sent to Sinkiang as a Special Commissioner to pacify the situation there is leaving Nanking very soon, but whether he will travel by aeroplane or use the land route via Siberia has not yet been decided.—Reuter.

SHENSI GOVERNOR

RECENT APPOINTMENT OF MR. SHAO LI-TZE

Nanking, May 4. The Executive Yuan has accepted the resignation of General Yang Hu-cheng, Governor of Shensi and appointed Mr. Shao Li-tze, ex-Governor of Kansu, to be his successor. General Chu Shao-liang has been appointed Governor of Kansu.—Reuters.

DAY BY DAY NEWS IN BRIEF

HE GAINS WISDOM IN A HAPPY WAY WHO GAINS IT BY ANOTHER'S EXPERIENCE.—Plautus.

The Lloyd Triestino liner, Conte Verde, is arriving to-morrow morning at 4 a.m., berthing at Kowloon Wharf, and sails at 11 a.m. for Shanghai.

Cheung Wa, 52, a coolie at the Naval Sanatorium on The Peak collapsed and died near the former Peak Hospital yesterday afternoon.

Wan Choi, 23-year-old concubine, hanged herself from a nail set in the wall at her home at 100, Keelung Street, Shamshuipo, yesterday. Domestic troubles are said to have caused the suicide.

A year of sustained progress in keeping with their ideals of service, fellowship and culture was recorded by the Y. M. C. A. Club which held its first anniversary dinner at the Chinese Merchants' Club last night. Synchronising with the celebration of the birthday, the Club was presented with the Charter by the Hon. Mr. S. W. T'ao on behalf of Mr. Wm. Yinson Lee, director of the China Region of the International Y. M. C. A. Club.

MUKDEN INCIDENT.

MANCHUKUO SOLDIERS CLASH WITH CHINESE POLICE

Shanghai, May 3.

Reports trickling out from Manchuria reveal that an ugly riot occurred in Mukden on Sunday when seventy Manchukuo Constabularymen who had recently returned from Jehol, attacked the east gate police station. The Constabularymen were driven off, but reinforced by other Constabularymen and rowdies, re-attacked and stormed the station, seizing all the rifles there. Japanese troops assisted by the police finally dispersed the rioters, making seventy arrests.

The incident, it is reported, arose when two Japanese policemen halted a truck recklessly driven by five Constabularymen. The latter attempted to disarm the Japanese, but were beaten instead. Then they incited their comrades to attack the station.—Reuter.

"TELEGRAPH" ART SUPPLEMENT

A Wide Variety of Illustrations

To-morrow's Pictorial Supplement will contain the usual wide variety of subjects, sports pictures, numerous local wedding, and interesting pictures of Chinese life among them.

An excellent picture of Lady Peel, accompanied by H.E. the Governor, leading in Lucy Glitters at last Saturday's races, scenes at the Police Training School when Inspector Paterson was honoured by a large parade on the occasion of his retirement, the opening of the Chinese Athletic Association Swimming Club are among the illustrations.

AUSTRIAN COUP PLAN.

GOVERNMENT DETERMINED TO OPPOSE NAZIS

Vienna, May 4. Excitement has been aroused by the publication in the newspaper Reichspost of the details of preparations for a Nazi coup d'état. An official communiqué declares the Government is determined and fully able to guarantee the security of the country.—Reuter's Special.

CORRESPONDENT'S CORNER KICK QUERY

Signals and the Athletic and Engineers in Division 3 to-morrow, and on Sunday the Athletic seniors oppose the Navy.

Nothing startling here. The Police will probably get a couple of points, for Kowloon will be weakened by the absence of Blues, their star intermediate, but it will be interesting to see if the Navy can repeat last Sunday's performance against the Athletic. My own feeling is that the Chinese forwards have got to show a little more initiative and idea of shooting if they are to enjoy their revenge.

Mr. G. T. May, the F. A. Secretary informs me that a charity game has been arranged for Sunday between South China and the Royal Artillery. They will meet at Caroline Hill and the proceeds will be for the Ip Lan Young Tong school fund.

The local season will officially wind up on May 20, exactly a fortnight after it should, with a match in aid of the Children's Playground Fund.

It will take place on the Club ground and will be played between representative sides of the Services and the Chinese. This will certainly be a corker, for if the Services are at full strength they can field a very, very useful side indeed.

CORNER KICK QUERY.

A correspondent writes me in connexion with the South China—Athletic game on Wednesday. He quotes an incident and asks for a ruling on it.

He points out that just before half time the Athletic were awarded a corner kick. The ball was placed and the kick taken, but before the ball could reach another player the referee signalled for half time. Should not the official have extended time for the kick to be taken and the ball touched by another player he asks.

Well certainly the English Football Association gives no ruling on the point, so it is to be assumed that the corner kick is regarded as having been taken once the ball has been kicked. In the rules of the game it is expressly laid down that when a penalty kick is awarded "if necessary, time of play shall be extended to admit of the penalty kick being taken", but no such provision is made regarding corner kicks.

On the face of it it does appear somewhat senseless and unfair for a team, having gained a free kick, to have a closing signal given before advantage can be taken of it.

On the other hand a corner kick obviously cannot be placed in the same class as an infringement, and it is reasonable to suggest that it is no more unfair to stop play a second after a corner kick has been taken, than to do so as a goal scoring shot is about to enter the net, an incident which is quite frequent.

39 TEAMS TAKING PART IN LAWN TENNIS LEAGUE

LAWN
BOWLS

REAL START TO SEASON

BIG PROGRAMME TO-MORROW

TASK FOR C.C.C. RESERVES

TO-MORROW will see the lawn bowls league season in full swing, when the first programme of senior division matches is down for decision, as well as four games in the junior section.

Both of the Craigengower championship teams are on view, the first being at home to the Police, and the reserves paying a visit to the Civil Service.

It should be a clinic for the seniors, for the Police judged on last year's record, have little hopes of winning. Albert Craigengower will do well to bear in mind that they only just pipped the policemen on the same green last year.

The "Craig" have their strongest team possible in the field, with Harold Beer making a welcome return.

The Reccelo, last year's runners-up enjoy a home fixture, and the advantage of the green should be sufficient to give them the points against the Kowloon Dock, where as the K.C.C. visit Tai Koo where anything might happen.

The Peninsula club are turning out three sound looking rinks, with Silkestone, Hyde Lay and Overy as skips, who will have the assistance of Harry Hampton, Ferguson and Tacchi, and they promise to be good enough to overcome the strong opposition which is bound to come from the men out East.

AN INTRIGUING TIE.

The most intriguing game in the second division is the clash between Craigengower and the Civil Service. The Government servants started off the season impressively last week, and seeing they are on their own green, the "Craig" will have all their work out to avoid defeat.

Furthermore the Civil Service have the reputation of being exceptionally good starters, as witness their early performances last summer. The fact too that they finished up third in the table indicates the task confronting the champions.

The Hongkong Electric, 1932 "wooden-spoonists" receive a visit from the Yacht Club, the runners-up, but as it is not known the composition of either team pronostication is rather out of the question.

The astonishing victory of the Reccelo over the Police last week, when they won by a margin of 60 shot, points to the Portuguese having a very big say in the championship this year. But they will probably get a better test at the Kowloon Cricket Club to-morrow, and this game will permit followers an opportunity of forming more definite opinions as to the prospects of the team.

Judging from the K.C.C. team it is not so strong as last year so that the Reccelo have every chance of winning.

FIXTURES AND TEAMS.

TEN teams in each of the A and B Divisions, fourteen in the C and five in the Mixed Doubles, will, according to an official notice of the Hongkong Lawn Tennis Association, constitute the tennis league this summer which is scheduled to open on Monday, May 29.

NINE TEAMS PROMOTED TWO NEW CLUBS JOIN UP KOWLOON DOCK & C.B.A.

MIXED DOUBLES LOSE L.R.C.

Thus, for the first time for many years, the "A" Division boasts a numerical strength in keeping with the importance of this section of the league.

It will be seen that, in accordance with the decision reached by the Council, the Executive Committee has drafted some of last year's leading "B" Division teams into the "A", and the most prominent "C" teams into the "B".

NEW CLUBS.

Two new clubs have entered—Kowloon Dock Recreation Club and the Central British Association. The Deutscher Klub have returned to the "C" Division, but once again the Japanese teams are not competing. A prominent absentee from the Mixed Doubles division is the Ladies Recreation Club, and as no new team has come in to fill the vacancy, the division will boast only five clubs this summer.

Nevertheless, there will be a total of 99 teams taking part as compared with 36 in 1932.

It will be seen that the B Divisions teams drafted into the senior section are the C.R.C., South China, Craigengower the University and the Reccelo, who finished in that order named in the league table last year. This means that the Chinese, Recreation Club and South China will have two teams competing in the "A" Division.

The promotions from the "C" to the "B" are Chinese Recreation Club, Reccelo, South China, and Graduates Association.

The constitution of the league will be as follows:

"A" DIVISION.

Chinese Recreation Club "A", Indian Recreation Club "A", Kowloon Cricket Club "A", Kowloon Dock Recreation Club, Deutscher Klub, Army Tennis Club, Craigengower Cricket Club, "C" Civil Service Cricket Club, "B" Central British Association, Indian Recreation Club "C", Kowloon Indian Tennis Club, and Filipino Club.

"B" DIVISION.

Chinese Recreation Club "C", South China Athletic Club "C", Club de Reccelo "B", University "B", Indian R.C. "B", Hongkong Cricket Club "B", Civil Service "A", Kowloon Cricket Club "B", Graduates Association, and United Services Recreation Club.

"C" DIVISION.

Chinese Recreation Club "D" (if entered), Club de Reccelo "C",

THE NEW SYSTEM NO SATURDAY MATCHES FRESH RULES TO OPERATE BY "VERITAS"

Kowloon Cricket Club "C" Hongkong Cricket Club "C", Indian Sports Club, Kowloon Dock Recreation Club, Deutscher Klub, Army Tennis Club, Craigengower Cricket Club, "C" Civil Service Cricket Club, "B" Central British Association, Indian Recreation Club "C", Kowloon Indian Tennis Club, and Filipino Club.

MIXED DOUBLES.

NEW RULES.

With the new system of arranging fixtures which eliminates Saturday games, and provides for a distinct day every week for each division, rules covering the alteration have been passed by the Executive Committee on the lines agreed upon by the General Council.

They are as follows:

1.—When, on account of bad weather a match or block of matches cannot be played on the scheduled date, the match, or matches, will be played on a later date fixed by the Executive Committee, unless mutual arrangements can be made between the teams concerned for playing in the meantime.

2.—In ordinary circumstances no postponement of any match will be

ONE-ARMED GOLFERS ORGANIZE SOCIETY

The One-Armed Golfers' society open championship will be held September 7 on the course of the Royal Burgess golfing society here with one-armed players from the United States, Germany and France invited to take part.

Play will be by strokes over 36 holes. The course of the Royal Burgess is the second oldest in the world, having been founded in 1735.

allowed except on account of weather conditions.

In every case the representative of the home team will be responsible for deciding whether play is possible, and for notifying the representative of the opposing team if play is impossible.

3.—If, in special circumstances, a team is unable to play a match on the scheduled date and desires a postponement, the opposing team must be informed forthwith, and the League Secretary notified within 24 hours. The case will then be considered by the Executive Committee, which, if it finds that the postponement was reasonable, will fix another date for the match, but if otherwise, will award the full points of the match to the opponents of the team in default.

4.—No player who has played more than once in the season for a higher ranking team of his club shall be allowed to play for a lower ranking team.

5.—Every Club entering a team or teams for one or more divisions of the League shall forward to the League Secretary at least one week before the start of the league season a list nominating four players as the nucleus of its team or of each of its teams for the season. This rule does not apply to teams entered for the Mixed Doubles Division.

The incorporation of these new rules this summer means that some of the existing rules become obsolete and (Continued on Page 7.)

K.C.C. TENNIS TOURNEY

REQUEST TO THE PLAYERS

The Kowloon Cricket Club tennis tournament will resume this week-end, when competitors are again requested to attend on Saturday and Sunday afternoon to take part in a scheduled programme.

The organisers intend that all first round matches in every event shall be completed and competitors are asked to assist in this by being on the ground.

It is also hoped to make progress to the third round in the junior championship and the handicapped "A" singles.

Play will start at 2.30 on both Saturday and Sunday and competitors will find an arranged list of matches for both days at the club house.

SCULLING TITLE IS A "WHITE ELEPHANT"

Ted Phelps Goes "Broke" Winning Crown

Ted Phelps, the world's sculling champion, has received a cable from Australia asking him for his lowest terms to row against "Snowy" Burns against a limit of $250 to include the Paramatta River. The cable Phelps' expenses.

"The offer is of no use to us," explained the champion's father, Bossy Phelps. "We lost money over every championship contest so far. More than $200 were lost by us in the match against Goodsell at Los Angeles during the Olympic Games."

Wins But Is Broke.

Ted got his own consolation for that victory in the shape of a cup presented to him at the Fishmongers' Hall recently. He is broke through winning the sculling championship of the world.

"The suggested sum of $250 would not cover half his expenses to go to Australia, with his brother as pacemaker and someone else to attend to his business."

"Then we should have to find $500 for the side-stake. I am not at all sure that we would find a sportsman to-day willing to risk $500."

"In intent replying that unless the organisers can fix a series of matches to enable them to guarantee us $2,220 it is not worth while. We would accept a challenge here on the Thames where it would cost us far less. But I am afraid the world's sculling championship is a white elephant."

Not Enthusiastic.

Nor is the champion himself any more enthusiastic. Ted Phelps admitted some months ago that he was tired of sculling.

It is his intention to try and break into motorboat racing which he considers faster, more exciting and far more lucrative.

"I am willing," said Phelps, "to quit sculling to-day if anyone is willing to give me a chance in a big speed-boat."

GARRISON TENNIS.

The R.A.S.C. Win Easily From Borderers Team.

The scores were: Capt. Patterson and Pto. Funnell (R.A.S.C.) beat Capt. Villars and Lieut. Martin 6-1; beat Cpl. Evans and L/C Andrews 8-10; beat Sgt. Pallister and L/S Bradley 6-3.

S/S Flood and Sgt. Powell (R.A.S.C.) beat Villars and Martin 6-3; beat Evans and Andrews 6-4; beat T. Tipler and Capt. Cannon (R.A.S.C.) beat Villars and Martin 6-2; beat Evans and Andrews 6-1; beat Pallister and Bradley 6-1.

The week-end league programme is confined to four matches. Kowloon and the Police meet in Division I, South China and the

provide a game worth watching.

The Football Association has just received the discouraging news that Allen, the Artillery right back, is in hospital and will be unable to take his place in the eleven.

This means the introduction of Ash of the Lincolns. He is a left back and his inclusion will allow Mullane, who was originally chosen to play at left back with Allen, to take upon his usual place on the right.

THE FA TEAM.

Other than this the Association team promises to turn out as advertised, which means that the following should line up.

Combey (R.A.), Mullane (S. W. B.) and Ash (Lincolns). Bilas (Kowloon), Pardoe (R.A.), and A. Duncan (Club).

Baldry (Lincolns), B. Gosno (St. Joseph's) Purkins (Navy), Ridley (Lincolns) and Lt. Hocquard (Lincolns). Reserves:—Cork (Lincolns), Bryant (R.A.) and Blake (Kowloon).

This team should perform creditably, although I don't anticipate it will be good enough to beat the Chinese, who, with the exception of Tam Kong-pak, can be the same eleven as that which won the Lai Wah and Charity Cups—probably one of the finest sides ever seen in Hongkong.

Once again the European half back line appears to be the weakest link, and I think the selectors, rather than concern themselves with the desirability of "making the job go round", could have paid a little more attention to the playing strength of the side.

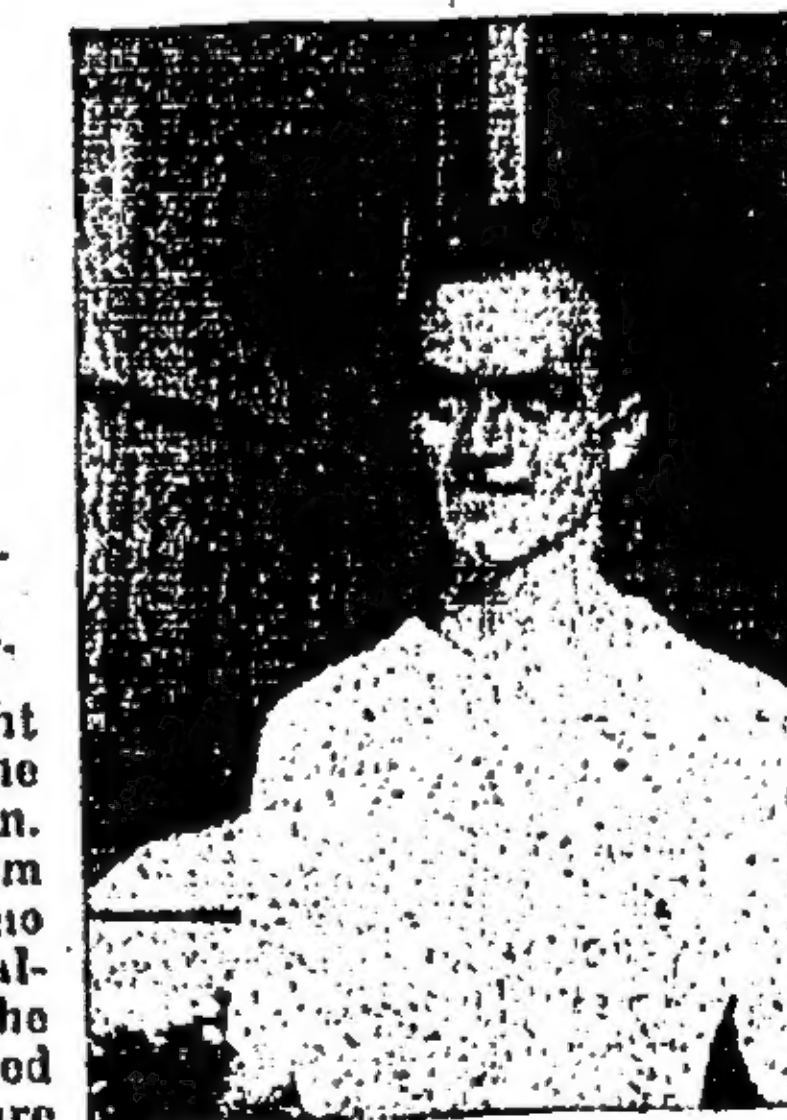

Had this been done, players like Pedmore and Shirras must have found a place in the eleven.

SACRIFICE FOR REPUTATIONS.

Reputations, and not current form, apparently influenced the Powers that be in their selection. For judged on the present form neither Baldry nor Borno Gosno are worthy of positions, and although it is agreed that the selectors have rather limited talent at their disposal, I venture to suggest that Warne of the Navy and Bryant of the Artillery, would have been preferable choices.

For the rest one cannot cavil. Combey is as good a goalkeeper as either Heath or Marques, the only other custodians who stood in line for selection and Mullane and Ash will certainly make a useful pair of backs.

Hocquard has never been very successful against the Chinese, but his inclusion in company with Ridley could not be very well improved, unless the position was given to Santos the Reccelo winger.

Santos, however, is so much of an individualist, a trait he has developed though having to play such a lone game in league matches this season, that Ridley would probably suffer.

NEW YORK STOCK EXCHANGE

YESTERDAY'S MARKET STRONG

According to Messrs. Swan, Culbertson and Fritz, the New York market was strong yesterday. Business done: 4,600,000 shares. The Wall Street Journal reports:—The anticipated increase in automobile prices sent automobile stocks up, developing a general rally of the entire list which touched new highs for the year. Chain store reports showed improvement in sales for the month of April, and this also helped maintain the market. Brokers' loans were reported at $539,000,000, an increase of $51,000,000 as compared with last week's figure of $488,000,000. Time money was quoted at 1/4% to 1 1/2% for 60 and 90 days.

CINEMA SCREENINGS.

NOTES SUPPLIED BY THE THEATRES.

One of the principal actors in Douglas Fairbanks' new picture, "Mr.
Robinson Crusoe", now the feature attraction at the King's Theatre, is Chief Tupa, of the district of Mahina,
Tahiti, who traces his ancestry back
to the time when white men were unknown in the South Seas.

Chief Tupa plays the part of the cannibal chief and demonstrates his historic ability that may well be envied by Hollywood's trained character actors.

"All of the South Seas natives are natural actors," said "Doug." "You
merely tell them what to do, and immediately they perform with the skill
of veterans. Rhythm and pantomime
seem to be among their birthrights".

In private life, the chief engages in
a very orderly though exciting line of endeavour. He is a pearl diver and fisherman, and holds the record for
time under water.

Goes Places!

Born in China, of an English father
and a Viennese mother; educated in England, France, Germany and Switzerland; beginning her screen
career in Hungary, petite, golden-
haired Sari Maritz, who's now on the path to stardom in American moving pictures, is a League of Nations all
by herself.

Sari, who's featured with Herbert
Marshall, Charlie Ruggles and Mary
Boland in "Evenings for Sale," smart Viennese musical romance, which opens on Sunday at the Queen's Theatre is rated as one of the most promising of the new crop of Hollywood starlets. Her movie experience,
however, goes back several years, for
she has been featured for some time
in English, German and Hungarian
pictures.

Miss Maritz was born in Tientsin.
Her father was Major Walter Nathan,
chairman of the Peking Syndicate;
her mother a daughter of the first
commissioner of Customs in Tientsin
after the Boxer Rebellion. She has a host of uncles prominent in business
and diplomatic circles throughout the world.

At the age of eighteen, she made her film debut in Hungary. This was followed by starring roles in England
and Germany. Her performance in a British-made picture, "Tow Way

Street," brought offers from American producers.

"Girl of the Rio"

Leo Carrillo is the sort of screen
bad man you like to meet. Swashbuckling by nature, ever ready to play pranks or laugh at his own expense, he is really Hollywood's gayest caballero. This brilliant star, who supports Dolores Del Rio in "Girl of
the Rio", opening to-morrow at the Central Theatre, has a unique family history. He is a direct descendant of the Spanish Dons who ruled primitive California before the coming of the Anglo-Saxon. His grandfather was the first provisional Governor of the State of California.

"Face in the Sky"
While brilliant photography has come to be accepted as a matter of course in modern motion picture

offerings, something out of the ordinary in this regard is promised in
"Face in the Sky", coming next Thursday to the King's Theatre.

The cameraman on this Spencer
Tracy-Marian Nixon-Stuart Erwin
feature is Lee Garmes, whose recent winning of the Academy Award for his work on "Shanghai Express" has marked him as Hollywood's foremost film photographer.

The director is Harry Lachman,
who abandoned a spectacular career
in one of America's foremost painters
after receiving many distinctions
abroad, including the Legion of Honour, for the field of screen direction. He brings to his work an unusual artistic sense.

With the talents of these men combined, the resulting photographic
effects and composition of the scenes
in "Face in the Sky" are said to mark
a long step forward in film artistry.

Offensive Breath.

You may not be aware that you
suffer from this unpleasant affliction.
But a glance at your tongue is a good guide. If it is discoloured or furred then it is certain that your breath will be offensive. Your internal organs, liver and stomach,
need immediate attention. Pinkettes,
Liver and Laxative Perfection, will
soon remedy matters. Pinkettes
cleanse the food tract, tone up the liver and stomach. For all those ills which result from constipation,
sick headaches, depression, dizziness,
loss of energy, liverishness, bilious
attacks, bad breath, pimples and boils,
you cannot use anything more pleasingly effective than Pinkettes. All chemists can supply you.

A SPY'S WORK

OBJECTION TO HIS LIVING IN BRITAIN

London, May 4.

A former German spy had the distinction of having a debate in the House of Lords devoted to himself to-day, when the question of his residing in Britain cropped up. He is Captain Von Rintelen, whose permission to reside in Britain, Viscount Bertie was most anxious should be revoked.

Lord Bertie said that during the war Von Rintelen was a spy and saboteur against Britain and the Allies, for which he had served a sentence of four years' imprisonment in the United States. Lord Bertie quoted from a book by Von Rintelen describing how he entered America by means of a forged passport, and how incendiary bombs were placed in munition ships timed to explode after the ships were outside American waters.

The Earl of Lucan, replying on behalf of the Government, expressed the opinion that Von Rintelen's presence was not detrimental to Britain.

Baron Newton described how Von Rintelen was trapped into returning to Europe, by a telegram sent in the name of the German Government by Admiral Sir Reginald Hall, and was taken prisoner on his arrival off Falmouth.

Lord Bertie pressed that his motion for revocation of the permission to reside in Britain be taken to a division, and the motion was defeated by a margin of fourteen votes.—Reuter Special.

Let me remark that you cannot lose by the arrangement—in a year or so you can marry someone else and bring him a small fortune! If your answer is 'yes' we'll talk over more specific plans. If you decline we'll forget it."

"I'll think it over."

"That's right!" He walked with her to the door. As he grasped the knob Mona raised her eyes uncertainly.

"May—may I ask who is doing me this honour?" She said timidly. Then she smiled, the formality of her question sounded like a motion picture caption.

Mr. Garretson smiled too. "You may. The gentleman in question is Barry Townsend."

CONTRACT BRIDGE

By W. E. McKenney

Providing for unusual distribution is what makes a successful bridge player. Following is one of the most cleverly played hands seen in a tournament.

The Bidding

South, the dealer, bid one spade. West passed, North without spade support, but with a good No Trump distribution, jumped the bid to two No Trump. One No Trump would have been a denial of any strength. East passes and South goes to three spades. North, with the knowledge that his partner holds at least a five-card spade suit, carries the contract to four spades.

The Play

West has the opening lead and from the jack ten nine of clubs, leads the jack. Dummy plays the deuce, East starts his echo with the five and declarer wins the trick with the ace. It looks as if the natural play for the declarer is to start and lead trump, but the good player provides against unusual distribution. The declarer in this particular case led the jack of diamonds. West played the deuce, dummy the eight and East won the trick with the ace.

East has great hopes of making two spade tricks, he has already made the ace of diamonds, and before the declarer can get a chance to discard his hearts, he decides to cash his ace of hearts, which is very good defense on this particular hand. A small club is now led by East which is won by the declarer with the king. Declarer leads the six of diamonds, West plays the three, dummy the nine spot, and East the four. The king of diamonds is returned from dummy, South discarding the six of clubs, and when West plays the five, he is marked with the queen. The queen of clubs is then returned from dummy, East discards the deuce of hearts and declarer trumps with the deuce of spades. A small spade is led and won

From LEITH, MIDDLESBRO, ANTWERP, LONDON and STRAITS.

The Steamship "BENROCH"

Consignees of Cargo are hereby informed that all Goods are being landed at their risk into the hazardous and/or extra hazardous Godowns of The Hongkong and Kowloon Wharf & Godown Co., Ltd., whence and/or from the wharves delivery may be obtained.

No claims will be admitted after the Goods have left the Godowns, and all Goods remaining undelivered after the 9th May, 1933, will be subject to rent.

All claims against the steamer must be presented to the Underwriter on or before the 23rd May, 1933, or they will not be recognized.

To comply with the General Bonded Warehouse Regulations consignees must have a Revenue Officer in attendance when damaged dutiable goods are examined.

All broken, chafed, and damaged Goods are to be left in the Godowns, where they will be examined on the 8th May, 1933, at 10 a.m., by Messrs. Goddard and Douglas.

No Fire Insurance has been effected.

Bills of Lading will be countersigned by

GIBB, LIVINGSTON & CO., LTD., Agents.

Hongkong, 2nd May, 1933.

in dummy with the ace. Declarer returns the ten of diamonds from dummy. East refuses to trump, discarding the six of hearts and declarer trumps with the five of spades. Declarer then leads the queen of spades. West discards the nine of clubs, dummy plays the eight of spades and East wins the trick with the king. East leads the jack of hearts, which is won in dummy with the king. A small heart is returned from dummy which East is forced to trump with the six of spades. South, the declarer, overtrumps with the seven and then leads the jack of spades, picking up East's ten.

While the hand might be classed as double dummy play, it resulted in top score for the declarer.

FLYING OFFICER TRIES TO TAKE BLAME

London, May 4.
A chivalrous attempt to assume responsibility for the accident on Monday, resulting in the deaths of Viscount Knibworth, heir of the Earl of Lytton, and L.A.C. Harrison, was made by Flight Lieut. E. R. C. Hobson at the inquest to-day.

Hobson, who is an experienced officer, in his evidence said he was leader of the section of which Knibworth was a member. Hobson described how he unaccountably lost height at a very fast rate at the end of a 2,000 feet dive and got dangerously near the ground.
It was an error of judgment and was certainly undue carelessness and recklessness. Knibworth was absolutely blameless. A verdict of misadventure was returned.—Reuter.

PREFERENCE TARIFFS.

Changchun, May 4.
An important statement indicating the trend of Manchukuo's policy was issued to-day. It says that Manchukuo sees no necessity of resorting to retaliatory measures such as an economic boycott against countries not recognising her, but only a natural show of appreciation in some form or other for those countries which give her friendly assistance by extending recognition.

Despite repeated declarations that the policy of the open door will be maintained, this indicates the possibility of preferential tariffs.—Reuter.

JAPAN'S THREAT.

MORE SERIOUS ACTION IF CHINA CONTINUES

Tokyo, May 3.
If fresh operations are undertaken south of the Great Wall, they will likely be on a bigger scale than before as the Japanese Army is losing its patience and is determined to terminate the constant Chinese attacks along the Great Wall, declared a Foreign Office spokesman commenting on yesterday's statement issued by the War Office concerning the North China situation.

The Foreign Office spokesman's declaration is taken as an indication that fresh fighting on a big scale will surely break out in North China.—Reuter.

CHINA'S BLUNDER.

Severe Criticism by Mr. H. G. W. Woodhead.

Shanghai, May 4.
Writing in the Evening Post, Mr. H. G. W. Woodhead says the tacit establishment of a neutral zone by Japan's considered and methodical retirement would have brought hostilities in the north to an end. It would not have impaired China's rights moral or legal, and would have been acquiesced in by the nation as a whole, if the Chinese Government and militarists had laid emphasis on preparations for "resistance" on the new line and avoided mention of a military situation in the territory evacuated by the Japanese.

Unfortunately, the Chinese military commanders pushed forward "in pursuit" of the Japanese and widely advertised their successes in reconquering Chinese territory.

Now comes an ominous warning from the War Office at Tokyo. Mr. Woodhead says that attacks on the Japanese positions under existing conditions are utter folly. Resistance that makes "enemy" occupation of a large portion of Chinese territory inevitable, must be regarded as particularly fatuous.—Reuter's Special.

GIRL KIDNAPPED

DAUGHTER OF WEALTHY DETROIT FAMILY

LINDBERGH CASE PARALLEL

New York, May 5.

The greatest man-hunt in the United States since the kidnapping of Colonel Lindbergh's baby, has started as the result of a somewhat similar abduction outrage.

The victim of the kidnappers on this occasion is a ten-year-old girl, Margaret McMath, the only daughter of a wealthy Detroit family.

Margaret was leaving her school in New York on Wednesday evening when a car containing three unknown pulled into the side of the road. The girl was snatched up and the car speeded away.

There is reason to suspect that Miss McMath may possibly have been taken aboard a motor-boat.

LAND, SEA AND AIR SEARCH.

The New York Police have been ordered to search by land, sea and air for the missing child.

Police launches are now engaged in combing all the waters round New York searching for a suspect motor-boat.

Aeroplane are scouting from the air and watching all roads lest the kidnappers should attempt to get out of the city by motor-car.

All railways are being carefully watched and the whole city is being searched.

PARENTS' REQUEST REFUSED.

The Michigan State Police, whose Chief declares that the solution of the kidnapping may lead to the solution of the Lindbergh case, has refused to accede to the request of the distraught parents to withdraw from the hunt for twenty-four hours and to give the kidnappers free access for possible negotiations.—Reuter.

ANGLO-GERMAN TREATY

TORY BACK BENCH MALCONTENT'S

London, May 4.

In the House of Commons to-day, the report stage of the Anglo-German trade agreement was reached and the resolution carried by 304 votes to 66.

The Liberals voted with the Government, but many of the Labour members on the opposition benches abstained.

ICE-MAN BECOMES AMBASSADOR

MR. D. H. MORRIS APPOINTED

(Special to "Telegraph")

Washington, May 4. Mr. Dave Hennen Morris, the well-known New York lawyer and Director of the American Ice Company, has been appointed American Ambassador to Belgium.—Reuter.

STABILITY IN EXCHANGES

London, May 4.

While astonishment was caused in some circles at the amount of the proposed increase, Mr. Neville Chamberlain's resolution in the House of Commons to-night, authorising an increase in the Exchange Stabilisation Account from £150,000,000 to £350,000,000 was passed without a division.

The Chancellor of the Exchequer gave notice of his intention to increase the Account during his Budget Speech, while emphasising that the need for the additional resources had not been influenced by America's abandonment of the gold standard.

A notable feature of the influence of the Exchange Equalisation Account in recent months has been the rapid increase in the gold reserves of the Bank of England, which have now reached their highest level for some years.

It is anticipated that this influx of gold will continue. The primary purpose of the Account, however, is to prevent undue fluctuations in the sterling exchange quotation.—Reuter.

U.S. RAILWAY PROBLEM

Federal Coordinator Recommended

Washington, May 4.

Mr. Franklin Roosevelt is now turning his attention to the railways of America.

The President has submitted to Congress a request for authority to appoint a "Federal Coordinator" whose duties will be to promote or to require action by the railways to avoid duplications of services and to encourage financial re-organisations.

It is indicated in the President's Message that the experiment will help the Government and the railways to prepare for a more permanent and more comprehensive national transportation policy.

A NEUTRAL ZONE DEMANDED

Shanghai, May 5.

A fresh ultimatum has been issued by the Japanese commander-in-chief in North China, following the repeated hints of new operations, according to Chinese reports.

Japan insists, it is said, upon the creation of a neutral zone between the Shih River and the Lan River.

It is stated that Manchukuo is now claiming that her borders extend down to the Shih River.

The report emanated from Lwan-chow and states that the Japanese military authorities have addressed a communication to the Chinese Commander at Peitaiho, recently re-occupied, demanding the neutralisation of the area between the Lan River and the Shih River.

THREATENED ACTION.

If the warning is ignored, the Japanese military authorities are alleged to threaten renewed aerial bombardment, backed up by a naval bombardment of the Chinese positions in the region of Peitaiho.

The Manchukuo authorities are reported to be claiming the Shih River as their boundary, with complete control of the Shanhaiwan area.—Reuter.

MAN'S LEAP FROM FIRST FLOOR

PICKED UP THREE HOURS LATER

A Chinese was found in a semi-conscious state in a scavenging lane behind Macgregor Street yesterday, and removed to Hospital where the injury was ascertained to be a fractured spine.

Earlier in the afternoon, the first floor of No. 100, Macgregor Street, came under suspicion as an opium den, and Revenue Officers raided it but made, it is understood, no discovery beyond the usual smokers' paraphernalia.

Not until three hours afterwards were they apprised of the fact that a man had jumped from the floor.

EMPIRE ON THE PHONE

FARADAY HOUSE OPENED

WORLD TELEPHONE EXCHANGE

London, May 5.

"The whole Empire is now on the telephone, with the completion of the service to India, which was inaugurated on May Day," said Sir Kingsley Wood, the Postmaster-General yesterday afternoon.

Sir Kingsley Wood was addressing those present at the opening ceremony at Faraday House, the largest telephone building in the world and the telephone headquarters for Britain and the Empire.

Through Faraday House it is possible to speak to any part of the Empire and for different parts of the Empire to be connected up. London subscribers can now talk to most places in the world except China and Japan and it is hoped that the day is not far ahead when both will be brought within the system.

Sir Percy Greenwood, the Lord Mayor of London, declared the building open. Many officials and leaders of commerce and industry were present.—Reuter.

JAPAN'S COTTON SUPPLIES

BELGIUM SCOUTS REPORT

Brussels, May 4.

Scant credit is attached here to the reports from Japan that, as a reprisal for the abrogation of the Commercial Treaty with India, the Japanese are favourably considering an offer by the Belgian Congo planters to supply the cotton to Japanese spinners.

It is pointed out that the total cotton output of the Congo is only sixty thousand bales, all of which is shipped to Antwerp. It is also obvious that the east coast of Africa is in a far better position to supply the Japanese market.—Reuter.

YOUNG MARSHAL IN ITALY

Rome, May 4.

Marshal Chang Hsueh-liang has arrived from Brindisi with his entourage.

His secretary stated that the Young Marshal intended to spend several months in Italy and also to visit Germany, France and England.

He has received many telegrams from China asking him to return, but he has no intention of doing so yet.—Reuter.

ROOSEVELT ON RECOVERY

PLEA FOR HIGHER WAGES

AND AN END TO SELFISHNESS

Washington, May 4.

The past few weeks have witnessed a slight but nevertheless a definite turn for the better in most industries, declared President Roosevelt in a speech to the United States Chamber of Commerce to-day.

The President stressed the need for restoring order from the industrial chaos and emphasised that it was a matter of national justice that wages should be increased.

Reviewing his efforts to increase trade in the United States and elsewhere, Mr. Roosevelt said that the main attack on the depression consisted in endeavouring to effect a broad elevation of commodity prices, which would, in its turn, apart from special efforts, lead to the provision of new employment.

WAGES LAGGING.

He said that the improvement which has been noticeable recently in most industries had been accompanied by a rise in the prices of most commodities, but wages had been lagging behind.

He therefore asked employers not only to refrain from further wages reductions, but to begin forthwith the process of increasing wages to meet the cost of living.

President Roosevelt emphasised the necessity of cooperation of employers among themselves and with the Government in order to retrieve industry from the unfair methods of competition and the cut-throat prices in the general chaos of the last four years.

PHILOSOPHICAL APPEAL

He promised Government cooperation to prevent over-production, unfair wages, improper working conditions and other unfair practices.

The President concluded with a philosophical appeal to human nature to lay aside selfish interests and to think and act for well-rounded national recovery.—Reuter.

ANGLO-ARGENTINE AGREEMENT

Washington, May 4.

The relations of the proposed Anglo-Argentine Agreement to the problems of the World Economic Conference and to Argentine-American trade were discussed to-day during economic talks between Argentine and American representatives, according to an official communiqué issued by the State Department.—Reuter.

AMERICAN FARMERS TO STRIKE

New York, May 4.

A nationwide farm marketing strike to become effective on May 13 was voted by the National Farmers' Holiday Association at a meeting held at Des Moines, Iowa.

FRANCE AND WAR DEBT

Paris, May 4.

An intimation was given in the Senate to-day that the conversations between President Roosevelt and M. Herriot had effected a change in the French attitude on the war debt question.

M. Paul-Boncour, the Foreign Minister, addressing the Senate, declared that France wished to reconsider the whole question of her war debt payments to the United States rather than "take advantage of the existing Mellon-Berenger agreement."

This agreement allows France to claim a moratorium of 50 per cent on the payment due on June 15, but the Government, he said, had no wish to invoke the operative clause.—Reuter.

BOYS AS OPIUM CARRIER

SMART SENTENCE ON EMPLOYER

The employment of small boys to carry opium was deplored by Mr. Schofield in the Central Police Court this morning, when he sentenced a Chinese to three months' hard labour on a charge of counselling a boy to carry a quantity of opium to a divan at 4, Elgin Street.

On another charge, defendant was fined $38 or two months, while another defendant was fined $40 or one month on a charge of possession. Mr. Schofield:—Those people who use small boys to carry opium will, in this Court, be sent to prison without the option of a fine. The defendants automatically make themselves liable to heavier penalties on all other charges. It is mainly for the protection of small boys.

IRISH BREACH OF TREATY

London, May 4.

No action is likely to be taken by the British Government as the result of Mr. de Valero's latest step.

The Dominions Secretary, Mr. J. H. Thomas, made a statement regarding the action of the Free State Government in passing the constitutional removal of the Oath Bill in the Dail yesterday.

He said the Government in the United Kingdom had made clear their view that the attempt to abolish the Parliamentary oath in the Irish Free State was in direct conflict with the obligations undertaken by the Irish Free State under the Treaty of 1921. This was confirmed by the form of the Irish Free State legislation.

FUNDAMENTAL BASIS.

The Treaty was the fundamental basis of the position of the Irish Free State and, in order to achieve their object, the Irish Free State Government had been compelled to include in their legislation clauses purporting not only to abolish the requirement of the Parliamentary oath but also to repeal those provisions of the Constitution Act and the Constitution of the Irish Free State which set out that the Treaty had the force of law and overriding authority in relation to the constitution.

NOT REPUDIATION.

As regards the position which arises on the passage of the legislation, the Government in the United Kingdom considered that the passing of the bill would not affect the duty of allegiance to the King or amount to an act of secession.

They were advised that the allegiance of the members of the Irish Free State Parliament did not depend upon the swearing of the oath which by treaty and constitution they were required to take, and therefore that the failure to take the oath was not in itself a repudiation of allegiance.

This did not alter the fact that in the view of the Government in the United Kingdom the removal of oath constitutes a breach of treaty.—British Wireless.

(Special to "Telegraph")

Shanghai, May 6.

A big crowd assembled at the Racecourse to watch the annual Highland Games yesterday afternoon of the Argyll and Sutherland Highlanders.

Lance-Corporal Sheppard won four of the events and was crowned Individual Champion, while Private Fraser was second.

WIN FOR DONCASTER

London, May 4.

In their last but one league match for the season, Doncaster to-day entered Carlisle in the northern section of the Third Division and won by four goals to two.—Reuter.

The wedding will shortly take place between Mr. Alfred Harry Stodman, a wireless engineer, residing at 20, Canal Road West, and Miss Toni Komnaty, of Luna Buildings, Kowloon.

Hollywood Hails Blue and White.

Nautical blue and white is the preferred colour scheme, by and large, and sometimes there is even more of a nautical touch than just the colour.

Miriam Jordan has a new dinner dress of white crepe made with a sailor collar back, the back decollete. The collar has triple stripes of blue, edged with gold, and two blue stars at corners. The dress has a sailor's lacing down the back placket, and in the front of the waist.

Sally Eilers wears a navy blue ensemble and a plaid scarf and beret. She has a cute little white blouse that is the modern version of the old middy, which she wears with slacks.

Ruby Keeler has an outfit in white, a two-piece ensemble of waffle crepe, the dress short-sleeved and the sweater coat long. Her sandals are of orange suede, just matching her sailor hat.

Margaret Lindsay wears a blue and white checked tweed suit with a long, unbelted sweater coat and hat to match. Her sandals are of rough blue suede.

GLORIFYING YOURSELF.

Raising the Eyebrows into Fashion.

By Alicia Hart.

It is quite all right to raise your eyebrows. That startled appearance which the gesture sometimes gives may do a lot to make you look at beauty in an uplifted manner.

If you keep the line of your brows smooth and even you will be surprised at the increased number of glances you will take. If the line of your brows doesn't go the way that you want it to, start to create the line that you want. Buy a small brush, especially designed for the purpose, and brush the hairs into the approved line.

If your line naturally is rounded, giving a winged effect, you are fortunate. There is allure, intelligence, and charm in such lines. If the line is straight and narrow and persevering try to shatter its too-rigid dignity by performing avarice with the brush. After a while, your eyebrow line will respond.

Plucked eyebrows are no longer appearing on the nicest faces.

The thin, artificial line had no real beauty to it. But superfluous hairs are no more welcome than they ever were. When a hair strays away from the place where it belongs, by all means pluck it. If you do not, anyone noticing will have a desire to take some tweezers and perform the task for you.

Vaseline and special creams for hair will make your brows thick and add lustre to them.

Eyelashes, too, will respond to the same process. An eye often has more appeal when the eyelashes curve upward. Begin to brush your eyelashes up when you are removing the surplus powder from them.

The habit of darkening eyebrows and eyelashes which are too light helps many eyes take a new view of life. Their setting is immeasurably increased. However, if your eyelashes and brows are dark you won't need this extra aid. Go in for health rules and watch how eagerly your face responds.

A Combination Dish

Hard cooked eggs can be combined with a vegetable in cream sauce to make a good combination dish. A layer of sliced eggs and a layer of vegetables in sauce are used alternately in a buttered baking dish and the whole is baked until very hot.

YOUR CHILDREN.

By Oliver Roberts Barton

Much has been written on tantrums, so much in fact that I believe the modern mother is well acquainted with the facts.

But to tell the truth I don't believe the matter yet is thoroughly solved. We have a flair, we humans, of trying to tickle every little vagary of conduct and put it into its labeled pigeon-hole. We are particularly fond of doing this with children, and all people they are the hardest to tickle.

Children are what I like to call "fluid," where older people are more set. It is not difficult to analyze a man of forty. He is this and that. But children change with each wind, with each thought, each interest, each physical sensation.

Traced to Nerves

To go back to tantrums, what causes them? Quite often from sheer cussedness, or a little trick to get their own way by scaring their mothers. Then, of course, the formula is simple. Let them alone to think it out and deprive them of an audience. And not to hand over the favour wanted at the psychological moment—because that kind of victory for the baby leads easily to more trouble.

But all emotional crises have something to do with the nervous system. I don't think fish take tantrums, although I read recently that a rattlesnake in a fury or rage bit itself to death.

These emotional explosions in children often come from some obscure reason far removed from the obvious. For instance, I know one child who spends half his time in a rage for a reason his mother does not suspect and that I do not mention to her because I think she would reason it.

When he goes out he is strapped to his pram. To keep him from sucking his thumb his hands are tied at night. Also, to keep him from throwing off bed-clothes, he wears a belt that keeps him from standing or sitting up.

Some children do not resent these things, but others, most others, feel that smothered sense of outraged liberty that we would feel if we were likewise tied. I think this child bottles up a sort of desperation, or it may be fear, for he never knows what minute he may again be a prisoner. He is too big for a play-pen but spends hours in it and he hates the sight of it.

Unhappiness Tantrums

The first intuition a baby shows when he is born is this fear of restriction. Hold him tight so that he cannot move arms or legs and he will scream even at one day old.

Children who get too tired from play or walking go into rages easily, because little nerves seek relief in a general blow-up, just as those of older people do. Lack of sufficient sleep does the same thing.

An unhappy child, or a child who is ashamed or ridiculed—Heaven preserve them from all three—will likely have tantrums. The brain seeking relief from one emotion in other. By adopting a "rage" consciousness it loses its fear, or shame consciousness. We seldom think of our own anger being a "pleasant" emotion, but it is so classed. People who get angry easily love it. They are merely being selfishly indulgent.

LOVE or MONEY?

BY H. W. CORLEY

BEGIN HERE TO-DAY

MONA MORAN, receptionist in a well-known law office, is in love with HARRY TOWNSEND, rich and socially prominent. She met Harry through STEVE RAUCCA, her childhood sweetheart, who has returned to New York after three years' absence. Steve has been in South America where, largely by chance, he has become associated with Harry, owner of a diamond mine long believed worthless. Together they have made the mine pay and are now business partners. Steve owns a huge diamond called "The Empress of Peru." LOTTIE CARLE, fashion model, John Moran, Harry and Steve on several dinner and dancing engagements.

MONA's brother, BUD, becomes involved with gangsters who plan to steal the big diamond. Steve suspects this, trips Bud and when he confesses helps him escape to South America where he is given a job at the mine.

Some time later Harry invites Mona, Lottie and Steve to spend Sunday at his uncle's palatial country home. It is a delightful day but Harry fails to propose as Mona had hoped he might. He asks her to dine with him next week. However, he becomes ill with influenza and fails to keep the appointment. Another girl at the office, Mona, a picture of GENEVIEVE DOWER, society girl, and says Miss Dower is engaged to Harry. Mona, very unhappy, goes to the hospital to see her father. She is told he must have special treatment that will cost $500.

CHAPTER XXI

Mona arrived at the office next morning with the determination to approach Mr. Garretson in the matter of the loan. At $5 a week saved from her salary or forfeited from her next advance she could repay the amount in a little over two years. Within two years she could expect two increases in salary. Turning these to the repayment of her debt, she would be as well off as at present. Better, of course, with Dad well again and home.

She had made up her mind quite completely to forget Harry Townsend. Barry was engaged to Genevieve Dower. Genevieve Dower, who knew the same people he knew, who was photographed at Palm Beach and Piping Rock, who had been "presented" at Pierre's Barry was engaged and his pretty speeches to Mona had meant nothing whatever except a manner of passing away the time. That was that!

At 10 o'clock Mona cautiously approached Mollie Drury to ask Mr. Garretson's plans for the day. "Want to see him in a good mood, do you?" repeated Mollie. "What do you want—the Empire

State Building? Mr. Garretson's alibi for Miss Moran was no sore point with Mollie nor was it a secret. Mona had received several raises since Mollie had but the private secretary's initial salary had been much larger.

"I'm going to ask a favour," Mona replied.

Mollie observed, "Sure, he'll do it. All you have to do is tell him what it is!"

"Mr. Garretson may not want to do this, though," Mona added, not in the least ruffled by the slightly caustic note in the other girl's voice.

"Is it a big favour?"

"Big enough. If you'll tip me off how he's feeling—"

"Sure. If the Boss isn't turning handsprings or looking like the cat that swallowed the canary I'll let you know."

Mona thanked her. "And if it's all right try to make an appointment for me, will you, Mollie? I'll do something for you some day."

Eleven o'clock and Mr. Garretson arrived simultaneously. The lawyer seemed, moreover, to be in the best of moods. Gray-haired, tall and trimly built, he was a truly distinguished looking man.

He set to work immediately. Half a dozen telephone calls, an argument with a friend over which golfer had beaten the other, letters, hurried plans for the afternoon's appointments and then he paused, looking pensive. He placed his finger tips together and without glancing toward Mollie asked her abruptly to send in Miss Moran.

"Great Scott—he's getting chippy!" breathed Mollie when she appeared beside Mona's desk. "I was just ready to ask him about you when he tells me to bring you in."

She eyed Mona critically. "Wipe off a little of that war paint, darling. The Boss likes you for your 'freshness and charm.'"

in his private office, Mona tried to summon courage for her request.

Mr. Garretson greeted her as deferentially as though she were a lucrative, valued client. "Good morning. Sit down, please." He looked at her disturbingly and re-announced his seat as Mona sank into the chair opposite. The width of the shining desk, scrupulously neat, lay between them. Glancing nervously at his blotter pad, Mona thought it surprisingly bare to be the base of operations for a firm of Garretson's.

Mr. Garretson first mentioned Mona's intended appointment. "I happened to catch sight of your name on Miss Drury's pad this morning," he apologized. Mona, thus encouraged, slid forward in her chair and picked nervously at the desk top. "I want to borrow some money, Mr. Garretson. That is, I want an advance."

He nodded. "My father is ill," she went on bravely. "I need a sum larger than I can save in time to have it do any good. I need $500 and I thought I could pay it back in about two years. You can deduct it from my cheque every week or I'll forfeit any raise I might have in that time."

Again Mr. Garretson nodded. "I see. You may have it, of course. But tell me," he leaned forward, "why are you so sure you will be with us for two years? Not—hastily—that we might contemplate a change but that you might. You see," he smiled charmingly as he reached for his cheque book, "you are a very attractive young woman. Attractive young women are here today and gone tomorrow. Marriage—alas for the employer—snaps them up!"

"But I am not going to marry!" Mona said blushing.

Mr. Garretson did not answer for an instant. He scrawled busily, signed and blotted the cheque.

"That's what they all say," the cheque folded, he laid it on the desk directly in front of her, interrupt me, please! At the moment he is ill. The marriage, for hand. "There is the amount you mentioned. Pay it back as you performed rather soon. I cannot wish. Make your own arrangements. And please forget the cheque for a moment while I make what may seem a strange suggestion. Request rather. I think I would call it a request."

He stared at Mona a moment and then proceeded. "This cheque is yours, no matter what answer you may give to this other matter. The two matters are distinct and separate. I give this my attention first because I wished to get it off your mind. I supposed your trouble was financial worries often distress so deeply that other considerations may not receive fair attention. Therefore bear this in mind. The money— and more if you require it—is yours whatever your reaction to my request may be."

"You say you are not going to be married. Are your affections involved?" Again he smiled. "Don't misunderstand me. I am not proposing! But a certain understanding is necessary before I proceed. You have no one in mind?"

"No one," said Mona clearly. "But Mr. Garretson, I don't see—" "That relieves me," he told her. "Frankly, I was afraid that the rather dashing young man who calls in his car at five—but never mind! You say you are neither engaged nor expect to be? Very well."

"Miss Moran, I have a client—that is, the firm has a client—who wishes to marry you. Don't in-

FIRST PICTURE OF PRESIDENT MADISON ACCIDENT

A mistake in removing plates from the side of the President Madison, American Mail liner undergoing repair at Seattle, is blamed for her partial capsize as shown above. Had the superstructure not caught on the dock, the ship would have rolled completely over when a sudden list let a flood of water in through the removed plates. Damage exceeds $200,000. One seaman was drowned.

A "pocket" lifeboat to protect bathers, occupants of pleasure craft, and fishermen at Worthing, was launched by the Mayor of Worthing, Councillor T. E. Hawkins, from Thornycroft's works at Hampton-on-Thames. The boat was built as a memorial to two young Worthing yachtsmen who were drowned off the coast there last year. Photo shows—The new "pocket" lifeboat in the water after its launch.

"PERFECT PESTS" MAGISTRATE AND BOY JOY RIDERS

A collision between a test car and a bicycle in Queen's Road Central last night, had a sequel in the Central Magistracy this morning, when the rider of the cycle was charged with dangerous driving. A fine of $15 was imposed, the magistrate remarking that bicycle joy-riders were perfect pests.

Young Ching, who drove the car, said that when he was near the Chartered Bank he saw three bicycles approaching in the opposite direction. The defendant was on the wrong side of the road and collided with his car damaging the door handle. The bicycles were following two rickshaws.

The Magistrate—You young men go joy-riding on bicycles are perfect pests. One day one of you will get killed and the unfortunate driver will probably be charged with manslaughter.

JAPANESE CALL TO CHINESE

"DRIVE BRITISH WEST OF SUEZ"

Tokyo, May 1.

Denouncing Britain for its allegedly perfidious treatment of its old ally Japan, posters conspicuously printed in black, white, and red have recently appeared pasted on wooden hoarding, fences and telegraph poles throughout the city of Tokyo. Bold characters in white on a black background credit a hitherto unknown organisation styling itself the "Asiatic Anti-British League," with the authorship.

After charging Britain with ingratitude towards Japan despite Japan's fidelity to the Anglo-Japanese Alliance during the Great War, these posters accuse Britain of having compelled Japan to accept an inadequate naval ratio at the Washington Conference and of fostering anti-Japanese sentiment at Geneva. In conclusion, they demand the emancipation of India from British rule and call on "the 400,000,000 people of China and the 800,000,000 people of India to drive British influence west of Suez."

CINEMA "SHOTS" AND "SEQUENCES"

Fred Groves, Isla Bevan &amp; Russell Thorndike in "PUPPETS OF FATE."

TWELVE months ago, overseas critics were singing the praises of Walter Disney's new edition of synchronized cartoons with the fortissimo pedal hard down, but during those months, we in Hongkong have been ignorant of the quality alleged to make these "Silly Symphonies" different from the usual mass of stilted absurdities flashed on the screen as a supporting feature. But, belated as it is, the opportunity has come, and the King's to-day will screen the first of this new coloured issue.

A preview of a few during the week revealed to me that the addition of colour is but one minor factor in the added appeal of the new issue. Mention of the word "colour" will probably terrify the film goer with visions of blurred and unnatural hues that have passed before their eyes in the past, labelled "Technicolour," but the fear is entirely misplaced, for there is not that indefinite mist obscuring these latest "Silly Symphonies." The colour tones are all pastel shades, quiet to the eye like a well executed water-colour, with each clearly defined.

BUT even without their colour, the new series stands out in as many respects as does the 1920 silent feature film from the latest Lubitsch gem. In subject matter, penmanship, execution, musical synchronization, they bear the finished stamp that comes after long experimenting with a new material. The appeal is mainly in the simplicity, but beneath the ingenuous appearance, there is a touch of sophistication and art.

ART may seem a trifle misplaced in connexion with sound cartoons, especially in view of the

yells to himself, to his goat, to his dog, to man Friday, to everyone, and keeps on yelling till he is back in New York in the soup and fish. He bounds up trees, down valleys, across rivers, swings from branch to branch like a Tarzan, strides here, jumps there, always on the move. His bounding, yelling, jumping, striding and swinging never stops; that is probably why he is a small boys' favourite.

APART from Fairbanks himself, the film as entertainment, has value. The plot has several new twists, and although the supreme ingenuity of a New York clubman who fashions machines with his bare hands on a barren island with Heath Robinson dexterity is hard to swallow, there is always a laugh around the corner, even to the final fade-out when he finds the unwanted tropic beauty on his hands.

THE writers of Mr. Robinson Crusoe obviously had their tongues in their cheeks when they penned their fantastic story, but it is enjoyable, expertly produced and photographed, and considering that most of the talking is monologue, in Doug's strident tones, maintains interest. That the running commentary is bright and breezy goes without saying. The girl in the piece, another of these wonderful tropic sirens, is a stranger, Maria Alba, and apart from William Farnum, who comes in as the other party to the bet, there is no other cast, except of course, the "horse of tamed and untamed savages" mentioned in the trailer.

TEN years ago the great David Belasco produced on Broadway a three-act melo-drama under the name of The Dope. It might still have been running had not the world tired of mystic South American republics. In due course, Hollywood produced it with Norma Talmadge, but even that hasn't stopped the film makers from foisting it once more on the unsuspecting public. In the new dress of Girl of the Rio, it is due at the Central over the week-end, when it will be interesting to see the effects of a decade-old melodrama on a modern film audience.

THE last act of Belasco's stage show brought the house down when the "best dam caballero in the world" allowed his rival to escape with the girl, for no other reason than that he was the "best dam" caballero. It was a great line, in those days, and Leo Carrillo, playing the role in the Central film, should make the most of it, for he has done it countless times on the stage. In the silent version, the role was taken by Noah Beery, now seldom seen, with Gilbert Roland as the gambler, and Harry Myers, Dolores del Rio is the first in the talking film, with Norman Foster playing Roland's part. Leo Carrillo is seldom seen in films, most of his time being occupied with the legitimate where he has earned a big name as a player of Latin-American roles.

IT was Paul Rotha who wrote such a scathing condemnation of of misuse of dialogue on the screen and the insidious influence the talking voice has towards the destruction of an art, and his meaning is made clearer after one has seen Puppets of Fate, the British film now showing at the Queen's Theatre. Never have I seen and heard a picture boasting of such laborious and superfluous dialogue as this. Hundreds of lines as well as the whole sequence of shots illustrating a train wreck could have been cut out and the film would have gained, rather than lost, anything. Everything is heavy, heavy as lead. Codfrey Tearle as the Barrister Detective takes up yards of valuable celluloid partially reconstructing a crime about which the audience already knows everything and can even go beyond the detective's divinations. The audience has to patiently sit through long scenes whilst situations and occurrences about which they are fully acquainted are painfully explained. Altogether a film, boasting of fairly good acting, completely ruined by an unintelligent scenario writer and a director with cinematic ideas of 1920.

SYDNEY Blythe, who has accomplished some good photographic work for British studios, does his utmost with poor material. His quick cross-cutting in the train wreck scenes is a distinctly modern effort, but he is less at home when attempting angles with his interior shots, and his lighting effects are a poor imitation of Hollywood's superb artistry in this phase of cinematography.

THE players do their utmost to brighten up the picture, although both Isla Bevan and Godfrey Tearle are guilty of "stagnant" and are not always in sympathy with their characters. Fred Groves puts in some good work and Russell Thorndike is pleasing. The minor parts are well filled, although two unnamed players are guilty of over-acting when attempting some West country dialect. Because the film is wholly British, it will certainly appeal to many in Hongkong, but judged from the cinematic viewpoint, one cannot truthfully say it is a credit to the home industry. The supporting programme, however, is excellent.

AND THESE ON SUNDAY

"Mr. Robinson Crusoe" King's.
"Evenings for Sale" Queen's.
"Girl of the Rio" Central.
"Arsene Lupin" Star.
"Sunny Skies" Majestic.

I think you will enjoy Evenings for Sale, which opens a run at the Queen's on Sunday, for the cast boasts the charming Herbert Marshall and the irrepressible Charles Ruggles. Marshall is undoubtedly one of the most polished screen players of the day, and his classic work in Probleme in Paradise is still fresh in our minds. It is the type of film which depends on its acting and music, for the story has little in the way of dramatic appeal therefore offering but small scope to advanced technique either in photography or direction. But the cast, sees that the utmost is made of the situations and the smart dialogue, and one need have no fear of not being entertained. By the way don't be surprised if you find Mary Boland steals the honours. She does some splendid work.

UNMUZZLED DOG ALLOWED TO LEAVE COLONY

"It is because people like you carry dogs about that we get the muzzling order for all the unfortunate dogs in the Colony" said Mr. Wynne-Jones in the Central Police Court this morning when he cautioned a Chinese traveller who admitted taking a dog from Yau-mat to Hongkong without a permit from the Colonial Veterinary Surgeon. Inspector Brennan said the dog was brought over on the Yau-mat Ferry. It was leashed. Defendant stated he was taking the animal to the country, and was ignorant of local regulations. His Worship pointed out that the regulation was very important and served the special purpose of localising, as far as they could, the danger of rabies. He suggested the defendant should surrender the dog to be destroyed. Inspector Brennan—It is quite a nice little dog. It is a poodle and is well looked after. The Magistrate then decided that the Police should hand the dog over to the defendant at the Pak Tai Junk. There were no regulations against the exporting of dogs, and once the animal was out of Hongkong, the authorities were no longer concerned.

of
EXCELLENT QUALITY.

THE HONGKONG BREWERS AND DISTILLERS LTD.

THE water being used in the Brewery has been fully tested at the Institute for Brewing Science at Pilsen, Prague, where the famous Pilsen beer is made, and a most favourable report on its quality has been received, which was issued on the authority of the Ministry of Public Works.

An up-to-date brewing plant has been installed under the management of highly qualified brewers.

The malt, hops, and yeast are imported from Pilsen. No chemicals whatsoever are being used, so that H.B. is genuine not synthetic beer.

Beer is an excellent food—it is malt liquor in its most palatable and cheapest form, it has all the valuable properties of malt in a drink which refreshes while it nourishes, satisfies while it sustains.

Beer has another valuable quality in a hot climate. When you perspire, mineral salts are drawn from the body, the high saline content of a light beer has a definitely tonic effect, by replacing these essential salts and thereby preventing colic.

The tonic value of yeast is well known, in beer you get yeast in its most palatable form.

THE NAZI POLICY

Events in Germany provide
cold comfort for those who hoped
and believed that the responsibilities of government would
produce a sobering influence
upon Herr Hitler. Resistance
to the only Disarmament Plan
likely to meet with a wide measure of approval continues at Geneva. In Germany, the movement to expel Jews from every
kind of profession—the Bar, the Bench, the universities, journalism, medicine and so on—goes on
with relentless force. Although
the boycott was officially checked
after one day—upon tardy re-
alisation of the discredit it en-
tailed—the attack upon professional Jews remains a cardinal
feature of policy. University
professors are being dismissed in
numbers which must be detri-
mental to the institutions they
have been serving. Small wonder that intellectuals of high repute are expressing their dis-
approval by resigning their positions. And the most serious
aspect of the situation is that Herr Hitler cannot well suspend
his activities. There is little doubt that the allegiance of
many of the men he gathered in-
to the Nazi movement was obtained by his promises of employment in the new Government. High administrative posts
were to be given them. They were to get the jobs held by
men of Jewish race. Herr Hitler, in trying to carry out his
promises has shocked the humanitarianism of ordinary
peoples and has come into collision with the Steel Helmets
and the National Party, who
apparently found that while jobs
were being distributed, their share was disproportionate. His difficulties with the Stahl-
helm may have been largely met
by the defection of their Commandant, Dr. Seldte, but the
critics of his identification of
national policy with racial prejudice will not so readily be overcome. Physical violence has been warmly donned and it may
be perfectly true that the atro-
city reports have been considerably exaggerated, but physical
violence is a less deadly weapon
than the organised economic
hostility now being practised.
This racial persecution, which has shocked all democratic opinion, is not the product of temporary excitement and hysteria

such as often accompany revolutionary political changes. It is clearly defined, after this lapse
of time, as an essential part of Nazi policy, one of the few positive elements of the creed.
Herr Hitler has openly declared
his intention of restricting German citizenship to German people and degrading the Jews and
other non-Teutons to the position of resident aliens. His followers have consistently engaged in "Nordic" glorification.
This is an attitude petty and
small-souled, not worthy of

Child Training Test

A little less than a year ago
a group of psychologists got the chance to take over the training
of two newly born twin brothers.
They set out to give all their
elaborate theories of child-training a test. One of the lads,
named Johnny, was put through
a stiff course from the very start
—daily courses of exercise, systematic instruction in the use
of his limbs, and so on. Jimmie,
the other youngster, was pretty
much let alone to develop in his own way. He got the same food
and general care that Johnny
got, but he was allowed to spend
most of his time in his crib,
playing with his toes, gurgling
and conversing with himself in blissful solitude. The other
day the assembled psychologists
got the children out and put them through their paces. Johnny, who had had all the training, outshone his brother
all the way through. He excelled
at climbing stairs, at paddling
about in a pool, at manipulating
little brain-testing gadgets and
at other feats of skill and
strength. Jimmie finished nowhere. But the most interesting
thing about the whole business
was this: Jimmie, badly out-
classed in every test, was nevertheless the happier of the two.
Expert Johnny wore a premature
frown most of the time. His responsibilities seemed to rest
heavily on his wee shoulders.
He was serious, very much in
earnest, quite engrossed by all his cares. And Jimmie, unskilled and unworried, kept wearing
a cheerful grin. He was no
great shakes as an infant prodigy, and he didn't care. His failures depressed him not at all.
He was, in short, a perfectly
happy child. Just how much importance ought to be attached to
this fascinating experiment isn't
clear. Probably the psychologists themselves don't know.
But any parent who shares the
old feeling that a flock of laughs
and a long stretch of utterly
carefree happiness are among
childhood's most invaluable pos-
sessions will feel the old-fashioned, unscientific regime emerges
from this test with the greater
part of the laurels.

Boys, Girls and the Box Office

The recently issued report of
the Edinburgh Cinema Inquiry
will not be ignored by anyone
genuinely interested in the social
effects of the film. This report
is the result of close questioning
of some 2000 children—between
the ages of 9 and 16 on the subject of their favourite films and
film stars. According to the Edinburgh inquiries, the tastes
of boys and girls are very similar. This similarity is more
striking in connexion with actors than with films, and with
actresses than with actors.
Janet Gaynor is the favourite
actress of both boys and girls;
then boys prefer Marie Dress-
ler, and girls Constance Ben-
nett; both agree in placing Jeannette MacDonald third.
The boys put Laurel and Hardy
at the top of the actors' list,
while the girls rank them second, with Ronald Colman first.
The boys' second choice is Jack
Holt, and yet another comedian,
Slim Summerville, occupies the third position. Comedies are
the boys' favourite kind of film.
They also like "westerns," mystery thrillers, and war pictures.
The girls prefer mysteries and
"westerns" to all others. Both
boys and girls heartily dislike
"love" films. In connexion with
the fact that war pictures are
enjoyed by boys, it may well be
remembered that war pictures,
like "Westfront," or as it was
named when shown in Hongkong
"Four Infantrymen," for example, can be made excellent
propaganda for peace.

PUT IN THE SECOND XI GIVE THE OLD PARLIAMENTARY HANDS A REST

Says ROBERT BERNAYS, M.P.

"This post-war world," said Mr.
Baldwin in the great India debate
last week, "is full of pre-war
minds."

Then why does he share the responsibility with Mr. MacDonald
for having appointed a Cabinet
almost exclusively of "pre-war
minds"? It is a question—rather impudent though it may be for a
young man to ask it—which has
frequently suggested itself to me
when I have heard the Under-Secretary at Westminster time and again, in an arresting contradiction to the painstaking
performances of their Chiefs, scoring merrily "all round the wicket."
I fully appreciate the motives of patriotism which inspired the pre-
war statesmen to remain at their

HELPING THE NEXT GENERATION.

Mr. Baldwin has stated them in a characteristically moving speech. Speaking of the men who were "middle-aged already when
the war began," he added: "It
has become our lot not to seek the
ease, but to carry on to the end
and help the next generation that
is coming along—the generation
that was too young to fight—help
that to take its place as and when
the time comes."

The date of that speech was
March, 1925. It certainly accurately represented the situation
then. We were suffering from a lost generation.

The men who, in their late
thirties and early forties, were the driving force of the Government
before the war, had been wiped out
in the furnace of the Western Front. So the men who were in
the seats of power in 1914 remained there in 1925, and rightly
remained there.

But that was eight years ago.
They are still there now. Have
they the same justification now?

PLENTY OF DRIVE HERE.

I suggested in a recent article
that youth was missing its chance
in this Parliament. It is not true
of the young men on the Treasury
Bench. They have seized their opportunities with both hands.

Whatever may be the deficien-
cies of those in their late twenties,
there is no lack of ability and
drive about those in their late
thirties.

They are probably as good as
anything which even that Government of Mr. Asquith, one of the most brilliant perhaps in modern history, ever produced.

There is Captain Anthony Eden,
the Under-Secretary of State for Foreign Affairs. He is acknowledged on all hands to have been
the outstanding success at Geneva.
When he wound up the debate on
the Rome interviews, for the first
time the House was treated to a
clear and vigorous statement of
what actually had happened, and
what was the direction of British foreign policy. Captain Eden is 35.

There is Mr. Malcolm Mac-Donald, the second in command at
the Dominions Office. His speech
on the Ottawa resolutions was
easily the best debating performance put up from the Government Front Bench.

Mr. Robert Hudson, the Under-Secretary of Labour, again, is one of the few men who do not regard unemployment as being a question of how to make the best allo-tioneering case for the current month's figures of unemployment.
He does give the definite impression that the problem is more than the negotiation of the next difficult corner.

Mr. Shakespear has done conspicuously well at the Ministry of Health. If the slums are not cleared by this recent Housing Act
it will be the fault of the Act, not any lack of energy and enthusiasm on his part.

It is no disparagement of their chiefs to say that more of these young men ought to be in the Cabinet. Their comparative youth, instead of being an obstacle to promotion, ought to be their title to it.

It is quite a pre-war idea that none under 45 should be in charge of a great Department of State.
Sir Austen Chamberlain was barely 40 when he became Chancellor of the Exchequer thirty years ago;
Sir John Simon was 37 when he was made Solicitor-General. Mr.
Winston Churchill was 34 when he was Home Secretary. It is absurd that a man of the calibre of Mr.
Hudson, who is now 46, should be regarded as a young man only suitable for a subordinate post.

I should like to see the second eleven sent in to bat. Obviously there would have to be some qualifications in such a drastic proposal. Men like Major Walter Elliot, the Minister of Agriculture, and Mr. Oliver Stanley, the Minister of Transport, would be included on the score of youth. In any case it is only a few months since they were Under-Secretaries themselves.

The Sir Samuel Hoare, the Secretary of State for India, is far too capable an administrator and manager of a most difficult situation in the House of Commons to be superseded. Mr.
Baldwin also would have to remain. It is true that he is past his middle sixties, but he is still an immense cementing influence in the National Government and retains in a remarkable degree the power of interpreting the best elements in the Conservative creed.

TO THE TOP OF THE CLASS.

Apart from these obvious exceptions I would like to see the young men en bloc move up into the seats of the mighty.

It may be argued that it would be very unfair on the older men suddenly to find themselves, after years of devoted service, put on the scrap-heap. But in what other profession can men, however distinguished, remain at the top after sixty? It is the retiring age, after all, for Civil Servants, who have an infinitely less exacting life than that of politicians.

Even among heads of colleges at Oxford and Cambridge, whose lot is cast in peculiarly pleasant places, far from the din and dust of conflict, a retiring age has been introduced, and is now strictly observed. It is a commonplace of medical science that round about seventy the brain begins to lose

The Very Idea!

SPENDING MONEY
By Eddie Kelly, Chit Expert.

YESTERDAY in Legislative Council, a mere
bagatelle of $310,277 was up
for consideration by the Finance Committee.

We don't know what the Hongkong government is coming
to. Once upon a time they used
to think nothing of spending as
many millions at one sitting.

We can see that what the government wants are a few suggestions
by a well-known local expert.

For instance, take Item No. 19
at yesterday's meeting, "Special Expenditure. One 'Accounting
Machine', they called it."

It seems that one machine for issuing receipts to the General
Public is not enough.

As many as 2,200 receipts have
been issued in a single day, resulting, according to the official Mem-
oranda, in a strain on the shroffs
who take the money.

We have never yet met a
shroff who has considered it a
strain taking money from us.

Then there's Item No. 30—Extra Balliffs. It seems that owing to the large number of
writs issued out of the Supreme Court during the past twelve months, Balliffs have been compelled to work overtime.

The increase in this item is explained by the fact that it is
twelve months since we arrived
in Hongkong.

We have a few suggestions
which we can give, gratis, to the Legislative Council for its next
Finance Committee meeting.

"Item 99.—Special Expenditure.
Medicinal Stimulants. As many as
2,200 demands have been issued on Edward Kelly during the past six months, resulting in a strain on the citizen who receives them. The vote is required in order to prepare Mr. Kelly for a further 2,200
demands during the next six months, it not being anticipated that he will come to light."

"Item 99½.—Extraordinary Expenditure. Now Supreme Court.
Owing to an oversight no provision
was made for the fact that Edward Kelly would remain in Hongkong
for more than 12 months. The provision of a new Supreme Court
to house the accumulated writs
has become an immediate necessity."

"Item 100.—Water Supply.
Amount required to cope with the
present water shortage. N.B.—
Actually, no grant is required under this heading, as the amount
will be met from savings under
Soap for Official Use (1900
Estimates Page 666 Item 333), soap
no longer being required, owing to
the shortage of water."

These people in Hongkong talk
about there being no depression
here, and about their accumulated
surplus, and the rising dollar.
Bah!

What they want is a man like us
on the job for a few months.

What they need on Finance
Committees is a man of experience.
We'd soon bring Hongkong into
line with the rest of the world.

THE GARBO.

Greta Garbo is on her way back to the United States. The greatest secrecy is being preserved.
Nobody will be permitted to learn
of her arrival except the newspaper
cameramen, the newsreel and movietone experts, five hundred
New York reporters and one hundred and twenty-two million Americans.

Its insouciance, and there is a growing lack of adaptability to
new ideas. Yet in a profession
that above all else needs youthful
minds and the capacity to grapple
instantly with new situations, the whither the head the higher the office.

A HANDICAPPED CABINET.

Particularly at this moment is
the elevation of youth important.
The world is changing so quickly
that men steeped in the politics of 1913 are, as Mr. Baldwin suggested,
for that very reason handicapped in approaching the problems of 1933. A Cabinet whose
average was 40, instead of as at present nearly 60, would not merely be stronger in ability and debating talent. It would also have an infinitely greater right to call
itself "National."

of."

WAR DEBTS NOT LIKELY TO BE DISCUSSED

CO-OPERATION WITH U.S.

London, May 4.

THE SUBJECT OF WAR DEBTS will not be one of the questions to be discussed at the forthcoming World Economic Conference. This was made clear in the House of Commons to-night when Mr. Ramsay MacDonald made a statement upon his recent conversations with President Roosevelt.

It is still hoped that President Roosevelt will find it possible to announce a moratorium on war debts until after the World Economic Conference has concluded its sittings.

The Prime Minister, dealing with the talks in Washington, had been anxious first of all to facilitate an early meeting of the Conference and finding they were agreed and that, subsequently, Mr. Herriot shared their opinion, they communicated with the organising committee and June 12 had been fixed for the meeting of the conference.

TARIFF TRUCE.

The Premier continued: "We discussed in some detail the subjects to be brought up at the conference. These include the questions of tariffs, quotas, exchange control and the stability of international currency."

A tariff truce during the sittings of the conference was also considered. Our purpose was to ascertain by intimate discussion what the prospects were of cooperation, not to come to any definite agreements. We both shared the view that our respective countries should enter the conference which is now to meet so soon with our hands completely united.

CONTROVERSY.

In view of the controversy which has arisen in reference to the suggestion of a tariff truce, I felt it my duty to point out how different is the position of a country like our own from that of those which are already high tariff countries with policies and economic defences already fully worked out and in operation. I took the opportunity of putting before the President a full account of our broad policy of disarmament and as a result of our discussions we reached common views which have been reflected in effective co-operation between the British and American delegates in support of the draft convention now before the Disarmament Conference at Geneva.

We also discussed the question of duties and frankly examined the problem in all its aspects. These exchanges of views were of particular importance as they brought out in well-defined detail all the differences which had to be reconciled not only in the final settlement but in the immediate handling of the question. Whilst I welcomed the idea of a truce during the period of conference, I made it plain that its application would have to be subject to the safeguards which these differences in our positions required. This was considered to be reasonable. On this subject I can make no fuller statement at present as the matter has necessarily not yet reached the stages of agreement.

MUTUAL UNDERSTANDING.

As for the visit as a whole, while I wish to convey no exaggerated impression, I would say with confidence that the mutual understanding between ourselves and the American Government has been materially improved by the discussions which I have had with the President for whose friendly hos-

ILICIT STILL IN MANSION

New York, May 1.

The largest alcoholic still ever discovered in the New York area was found on Saturday, when the doors of the old Belmont Mansion, which at one time only admitted the bluest blood in society, opened to admit eight federal officers, who came out with eight prisoners, and announced the capture of the still. The house was once owned by Mrs. O. H. P. Belmont, society matriarch at the beginning of this century. It was found that 27 rooms of the mansion had been turned into a huge distillery.

A Wide Variety of Illustrations

To-morrow's Pictorial Supplement will contain the usual wide variety of subjects, sports pictures, numerous local weddings, and interesting pictures of Chinese life among them.

An excellent picture of Lady Peel, accompanied by H.E. the Governor, lending in Lucy Glitters at last Saturday's races, scenes at the Police Training School when Inspector Paterson was honoured by a large parade on the occasion of his retirement, the opening of the Chinese Athletic Association Swimming Club are among the illustrations.

DANGEROUS DRIVERS

BATCH APPEAR IN COURT

"Taxi drivers here are exactly like their comrades in Europe. When they have a fare they are always in a desperate hurry and expect everything to make way for them, but when they have no fare they loaf about and get in the way of other traffic," remarked the Hon. Mr. E. D. C. Wolfe, Inspector General of Police in the Central Magistracy this morning, when before Mr. Schofield he summoned the Chinese driver of a taxi for grossly careless driving. Defendant pleaded guilty, and was fined $20, leniency being extended in view of the defendant's good record since 1920.

Mr. Wolf said that at 10.45 a.m. on April 22 he was travelling in his car towards the Star Ferry and had just passed the Hongkong Club building, when he saw a north east corner of the Cenotaph square, partly in the gutter at the north east corner of the Cenotaph square. The taxi had obviously cut the corner very dangerously indeed. When the I.G.P. came on the scene the taxi driver "was busy cursing the tricycle rider."

A MENACE. Mr. L. H. C. Calthrop, Assistant Superintendent of Police, in summoning the Chinese driver of a private car for dangerous driving in the Wanchai district, said the only explanation he could offer for the defendant's driving was that he was half asleep, at the time. "He appeared to me to be a menace."

Mr. Calthrop said he was driving his car down Arsenal Street with the intention of going into Lockhart Road. Defendant approached in the opposite direction on the wrong side of the road, at a speed of between 30 and 40 m.p.h. He came so near that Mr. Calthrop had to apply his brakes quickly to avoid a smash. The defendant then cut across the front of his car and finally ended up on the other side of the road. Mr. Calthrop added that a few nights later, the defendant committed another dangerous act at the junction of Murray Road and Garden Road, but as it was a doubtful case, and in view of the previous summons he did not take action in this instance.

A fine of $25 was inflicted. WRONG SIDE OF ROAD. Summoned at the instance of Traffic-Inspector Alexander, another taxi driver was fined $20 for dangerous driving in Des Voeux Road Central. It was stated the defendant drove on the wrong side of the road from Cleverly Street to the Empress Hotel at a speed estimated at 30 m.p.h. He sounded his horn practically the whole way.

In this case, as in the previous one, his Worship said that on two more convictions for similar offences, he would recommend the cancellation of the licence. For carrying 18 passengers in excess of the authorised number, the conductor of Aberdeen Kai Fong motorbus was fined $7 by his Worship. The passengers, it was stated, were going to the Chinese Christian Cemetery. Insp. Alexander said the greatest danger lay in the journey down the Dairy Farm hill.

Another driver, who mounted his car on the pavement near the Tai Tung Restaurant, to get fares, was fined $20.

MINOR INCIDENT. A fine of $5 was imposed on Mr. J. Barnett when he was summoned before Mr. Grantham at the Kowloon Magistracy this morning for failing to keep to the left side of the road whilst rounding a bend in Tai Po Road on April 9. It was alleged by Inspector Nicoll that defendant rounded a bend near the Three Mile Post on the wrong side of the road, but immediately on seeing the Inspector, whose car was stationary round the corner, he swerved back to the left.

RULES AFFECTED.

The old rules affected are: 6.—Except with the sanction of the Executive Committee or unless the weather makes play impossible, all matches shall be played on the dates 7.—In the event of postponement, the teams concerned must themselves fix some other date within fourteen days of the original date. The Home Team in every such case shall be responsible for the initiation of such arrangements.

8.—In the event of one team being unable to keep its engagement on the date fixed or in the event of a date not being fixed within fourteen days, the Executive Committee shall have power to fix a date or award the point against the Club which, in the opinion of the Executive Committee, is in default.

14.—No player who has, in one season, played twice or more for a team in a higher division is eligible to play for a team in a lower division of the league.

Signals and the Athletic and Engineers in Division 3 to-morrow, and on Sunday the Athletic seniors oppose the Navy.

Nothing startling here. The Police will probably get a couple of points, for Kowloon will be weakened by the absence of Bliss, their star intermediate, but it will be interesting to see if the Navy can repeat last Sunday's performance against the Athletic. My own feeling is that the Chinese forwards have got to show a little more initiative and idea of shooting if they are to enjoy their revenge.

Mr. G. T. May, the F. A. Secretary informs me that a charity game has been arranged for Sunday between South China and the Royal Artillery. They will meet at Caroline Hill and the proceeds will be for the Ip Lan Yung Tong school fund.

The local season will officially wind up on May 20, exactly a fortnight after it should, with a match in aid of the Children's Playground Fund.

It will take place on the Club ground and will be played between representative sides of the Services and the Chinese. This will certainly be a corker, for if the Services are at full strength they can field a very, very useful side indeed.

CORNER KICK QUERY. A correspondent writes me in connexion with the South China—Athletic game on Wednesday. He quotes an incident and asks for a ruling on it.

He points out that just before half time the Athletic were awarded a corner kick. The ball was placed and the kick taken, but before the ball could reach another player the referee signalled for half time. Should not the official have extended time for the kick to be taken and the ball touched by another player he asks.

Well certainly the English Football Association gives no ruling on the point, so it is to be assumed that the corner kick is regarded as having been taken once the ball has been kicked. In the rules of the game it is expressly laid down that when a penalty kick is awarded "if necessary, time of play shall be extended to admit of the penalty kick being taken", but no such provision is made regarding corner kicks.

On the face of it it does appear somewhat senseless and unfair for a team, having gained a free kick, to have a closing signal given before advantage can be taken of it.

On the other hand a corner kick obviously cannot be placed in the same class as an infringement such as a penalty, and it is reasonable to suggest that it is no more unfair to stop play a second after a corner kick has been taken, than to do so as a goal scoring shot is about to enter the net, an incident which is quite frequent.

39 TEAMS TAKING PART IN LAWN TENNIS LEAGUE

LAWN
REAL
START TO
BIG PROGRAMME
TO-MORROW
TASK FOR C.C.C.
RESERVES

TO-MORROW will see the lawn bowls league season in full swing, when the first programme of senior division matches is down for decision, as well as four games in the junior section.

Both of the Craignower championship teams are on view, the first being at home to the Police, and the reserves playing a visit to the Civil Service.

It should be a cinch for the seniors, for the Police judged on last year's record, have little hopes of winning. Albert Craignower will do well to bear in mind that they only just pipped the police-men on the same green last year.

The "Craig" have their strongest team possible in the field, with Harold Beer making a welcome return.

The Revere, last year's runners-up, enjoy a home fixture, and the advantage of the green should be sufficient to give them the points against the Kowloon Dock, where the K.C.C. visit Takoo where anything might happen.

The Peninsula club are turning out three sound looking rinks, with Silkestone, Hyde Lay and Overy as skips, who will have the assistance of Harry Hampton, Ferguson and Tachell, and they promise to be good enough to overcome the strong opposition which is bound to come from the men out East.

AN INTRIGUING TIE.

The most intriguing game in the second division is the clash between Craignower and the Civil Service. The Government servants started off the season impressively last week, and seeing they are on their own green, the "Craig" will have all their work cut out to avoid defeat.

Furthermore the Civil Service have the reputation of being exceptionally good starters, as witness their early performances last summer. The fact too that they finished up third in the table indicates the task confronting the champions.

The Hongkong Electric, 1932 "wooden spoons" receive a visit from the Yacht Club, the runners-up, but as it is not known the composition of either team pronunciation is rather out of the question.

The astonishing victory of the Revere over the Police last week, when they won by a margin of 50 shot, points to the Portuguese having a very big year in the championship this year. But they will probably get a better test at the Kowloon Cricket Club to-morrow, and this game will permit followers an opportunity of forming more definite opinions as to the prospects of the team.

Judging from the K.C.C. team it is not so strong as last year so that the Revere have every chance of winning.

FIXTURES AND TEAMS.

The complete programmes, together with some of the selected teams are:

DIVISION I.

K.B.C.C. v Civil Service
Craignower v Police

Craignower:—L. E. Lammert, J. Cavanagh, D. Rumjahn and B.W. Bradbury (skip); G.L. Buchanan, G.S. Summons, H. Beer and R. Bana (skip); W.T. Brightman, A.E. Conner, E. el Arculli, and U.M. Omar (skip).

PROMINENT LEAGUE PLAYERS:—M. W. Lo, H. D. Rumjahn, E. C. Fincher, J. A. E. Cassumbhoy and A. E. P. Guest.

TABLE TENNIS TAKES PARIS BY STORM

Table tennis has hit Paris a full blow squarely on the chin.

Four thousand seamstresses and garçons de café (waiters) recently participated in a tournament, the final of which was witnessed by 1,000 spectators.

The game of the paddle and celluloid balls almost was unheard of a few months ago, but now cafes have installed tables alongside billiard tables and every quarter of Paris has special halls dedicated to the game.

Takoo v Kowloon C. C.
Kowloon C. C.:—H. Gittens, G. Linde, H. Hampton and A. E. Silkestone (skip); E. C. Fincher, J. C. Chudwick, J. A. Howe, and A. Hyde Lay (skip); F. E. Skinner, C. J. Tachell, J. Ferguson and H. Overy (skip).

DIVISION 2.

Civil Service v Craignower
Craignower:—J. Johnstone, H. Milton, Y. Abbas and W. V. Field (skip); D. K. Kharas, M. J. Medina, E. Tuck, and A. A. Razak (skip); G. Duncan, F. K. Modi, W. Ward, and W. Gill (skip).
Reserves:—E. C. Barry and J. Driscoll.

TEN teams in each of the A and B Divisions, fourteen in the C and five in the Mixed Doubles, will, according to an official notice of the Hongkong Lawn Tennis Association, constitute the tennis league this summer which is scheduled to open on Monday, May 29.

NINE TEAMS PROMOTED TWO NEW CLUBS JOIN UP

KOWLOON DOCK & C.B.A.

MIXED DOUBLES LOSE L.R.C.

Thus, for the first time for many years, the "A" Division boasts numerical strength in keeping with the importance of this section of the league.

It will be seen that, in accordance with the decision reached by the Council, the Executive Committee has drafted some of last year's leading "B" Division teams into the "A," and the most prominent "C" teams into the "B."

NEW CLUBS.

Two new clubs have entered—Kowloon Dock Recreation Club and the Central British Association. The Deutscher Klub have returned to the "C" Division, but "once again the Japanese teams are not competing. A prominent absentee from the Mixed Doubles division is the Ladies Recreation Club, and as no new team has come in to fill the vacancy, the division will boast only five clubs this summer.

Nevertheless, there will be a total of 99 teams taking part as compared with 36 in 1932.

It will be seen that the B Divisions teams drafted into the senior section are the C.R.C., South China, Craignower, the University and the Revere, who finished in that order named in the league table last year.

This means that the Chinese Recreation Club and South China will have two teams competing in the "A" Division.

The promotions from the "C" to the "B" are Chinese Recreation Club, Revere, South China, and Graduates Association.

The constitution of the league will be as follows:

"A" DIVISION.

Chinese Recreation Club "A", Indian Recreation Club "A", Kowloon Cricket Club "A", Hongkong Cricket Club "A", South China Athletic Association "A", Chinese Recreation Club "B", South China Athletic Association "B", Craignower Cricket Club "A", Hongkong University "A", Club de Revere "A".

"B" DIVISION.

Chinese Recreation Club "C", South China Athletic Club "C", Club de Revere "B", University "B", Indian R.C.C., Hongkong Cricket Club "B", Civil Service "A", Kowloon Cricket Club "B", Graduates Association, and United Services Recreation Club.

"C" DIVISION.

Chinese Recreation Club "D" (if entered), Club de Revere "C".

THE NEW SYSTEM NO SATURDAY MATCHES

FRESH RULES TO OPERATE BY "VERITAS"

Kowloon Cricket Club "C" Hongkong Cricket Club "C", Indian Sports Club, Kowloon Dock Recreation Club, Deutscher Klub, Army Tennis Club, Craignower Cricket Club, "C" Civil Service, Cricket Club, "B" Central British Association, Indian Recreation Club "C", Kowloon Indian Tennis Club, and Philippine Club.

MIXED DOUBLES.

NEW RULES.

With the new system of arranging fixtures which eliminates Saturday games, and provides for a distinct day every week for each division, rules covering the alteration have been passed by the Executive Committee on the lines agreed upon by the General Council.

They are as follows:
1.—When, on account of bad weather a match or block of matches cannot be played on the scheduled date, the match, or matches, will be played on a later date fixed by the Executive Committee, unless mutual arrangements can be made between the teams concerned for playing in the meantime.
2.—In ordinary circumstances no postponement of any match will be allowed except on account of weather conditions. In every case the representative of the home team will be responsible for deciding whether play is possible, and for notifying the representative of the opposing team if play is impossible.

ONE-ARMED GOLFERS ORGANIZE SOCIETY

The One-Armed Golfers' society open championship will be held September 7 on the course of the Royal Burgess golfing society here with one-armed players from the United States, Germany and France invited to take part.

Play will be by strokes over 36 holes. The course of the Royal Burgess is the second oldest in the world, having been founded in 1735.

3.—If, in special circumstances, a team is unable to play a match on the scheduled date and desires a postponement, the opposing team must be informed forthwith, and the League Secretary notified within 24 hours. The case will then be considered by the Executive Committee, which, if it finds that the postponement was reasonable, will fix another date for the match, but if otherwise, will award the full points of the match to the opponents of the team in default.

4.—No player who has played more than once in the season for a higher ranking team of his club shall be allowed to play for a lower ranking team.

5.—Every Club entering a team or teams for one or more divisions of the League shall forward to the League Secretary at least one week before the start of the league season a list nominating four players as the nucleus of its team or of each of its teams for the season. This rule does not apply to teams entered for the Mixed-Doubles Division.

6.—Except in so far as they are added to, varied, or superseded by these rules, the 1932 rules for the conduct of the Tennis League shall apply.

The incorporation of these new rules this summer means that some of the existing rules become obsolete and

K.C.C. TENNIS TOURNEY

REQUEST TO THE PLAYERS

The Kowloon Cricket Club tennis tournament will resume this week-end, when competitors are again requested to attend on Saturday and Sunday afternoon to take part in a scheduled programme.

The organisers intend that all first round matches in every event shall be completed and competitors are asked to assist in this by being on the ground.

It is also hoped to make progress to the third round in the junior championship and the Handicap "A" singles.

Play will start at 2.30 on both Saturday and Sunday and competitors will find an arranged list of matches for both days at the club house.

SCULLING TITLE IS A "WHITE ELEPHANT"

Ted Phelps Goes "Broke" Winning Crown

Ted Phelps, the world's sculling champion, has received a cable from Australia asking him for his lowest terms to row against "Snowy" Burns against a limit of $250 to include on the Paramatta River. The cable Phelps' expenses.

"The offer is of no use to us," explained the champion's father, Bossy Phelps. "We lost money over every championship contest so far. More than $300 were lost by us in the match against Goodsell at Los Angeles during the Olympic Games."

Wins But Is Broke.

Ted got his own consolation for that victory in the shape of a cup presented to him at the Fishmongers' Hall recently. He is broke through winning the sculling championship of the world.

The suggested sum of $250 would not cover half his expenses to go to Australia, with his brother as pacemaker and someone else to attend to his business.

"Then we should have to find $500 for the side-stake. I am not at all sure that we should find a sportsman to-day willing to risk $500."

"In intend replying that unless the organisers can fix a series of matches to enable them to guarantee us $2,220 it is not worth while. We would accept a challenge here on the Thames where it would cost us far less. But I am afraid the world's sculling championship is a white elephant."

Not Enthusiastic.

Nor is the champion himself any more enthusiastic. Ted Phelps admitted some months ago that he was tired of sculling.

"I am willing," said Phelps, "to quit sculling to-day if anyone is willing to give me a chance in a big 'speed-boat'."

GARRISON TENNIS.

The R.A.S.C. Win Easily From Borderers Team.

In the Garrison tennis league yesterday the R.A.S.C. easily beat the "A" Company, South Wales Borderers, winning by eight sets to one. The scores were:

Capt. Patterson and Pte. Funnell (R.A.S.C.) beat Capt. Villars and Lieut. Martin 6-1; beat Cpl. Evans and Lieut. Martin 8-10; beat Sgt. Pallister and L/S Bradley 6-2; beat Sgt. Flood and Sgt. Powell (R.A.S.C.) beat Villars and Martin 6-3; beat Evans and Andrews 6-4; lost to Pallister and Bradley 7-9. Sgt. Tipler and Capt. Cannon (R.A.S.C.) beat Villars and Martin 6-2; beat Evans and Andrews 6-1; beat Pallister and Bradley 6-1.

The Y.M.C.A. water polo team had an enjoyable and successful practice last night. Both the first and second teams took part, and the result was a win for Keer's team, who beat Schreuder's side by five goals to four.

CORRESPONDENT'S CORNER KICK QUERY

Should Referee Blow "Cease" Whistle Straight After the Kick Is Taken?

GOVERNOR'S CUP MATCH TO-MORROW'S FEATURE

provide a game worth watching.

This means the introduction of Ash of the Lincolns. He is a left back and his inclusion will allow Mullane, who was originally chosen to play at left back with Allen, to take upon his usual place on the right.

THE FA TEAM.

Other than this the Association team promises to turn out as advertised, which means that the following should line up.

Combey (R.A.)
Mullane (S. W. B.) and Ash (Lincolns)
Bliss (Kowloon), Pardee (R.A.), and A. Duncan (Club).

SACRIFICE FOR REPUTATIONS.

Reputations, and not current form, apparently influenced the Powers that be in their selection. For judged on the present form neither Baldry nor Borne Gossau are worthy of positions, and although it is agreed that the selectors have rather limited talent at their disposal, I venture to suggest that Warner of the Navy and Bryant of the Artillery, would have been preferable choices.

For the rest one cannot cavil. Combey is as good a goalkeeper as either Heath or Marques, the only other custodians who stood in line for selection and Mullane and Ash will certainly make a useful pair of backs.

Hocquard has never been very successful against the Chinese, but his inclusion in company with Ridley could not be very well improved, unless the position was

GOVERNOR'S CUP MATCH TO-MORROW'S FEATURE

Baldry (Lincolns), B. Gossau (St. Joseph's) Purkins (Navy), Ridley (Lincolns) and Lt. Hocquard (Lincolns).

Reserves:—Cork (Lincolns), Bryant (R.A.) and Blake (Kowloon).

This team should perform creditably, although I don't anticipate it will be good enough to beat the Chinese, who, with the exception of Tan Kong-pak, can be the same eleven as that which won the Lai Wah and Charity Cups—probably one of the finest sides ever seen in Hongkong.

Once again the European half back line appears to be the weakest link, and I think the selectors, rather than concern themselves with the desirability of "making the jobs go round", could have paid a little more attention to the playing strength of the side.

Had this been done, players like Polmore and Shirras must have found a place in the eleven.

The first contest for the Governor's Cup between representative sides of the Hongkong Football Association and the Chinese Amateur Athletic Federation will take place to-morrow and will occupy the attention of the majority of local football fans.

This competition, which has behind it the very laudible aim of cementing friendly co-operation between the two football organizations, was instituted last year, and the winning team to-morrow will be the first holders of the handsome trophy.

Two strong teams will take the field and the Club Ground should given to Santos, the Revere winger.

Santos, however, is so much of an individualist, a trait he has developed though having to play such a lone game in league matches this season, that Ridley would probably suffer.

LEAGUE PROGRAMME.

The week-end league programme is confined to four matches. Kowloon and the Police meet in Division 1, South China and the

YESTERDAY'S MARKET STRONG

According to Messrs. Swan, Culbertson and Fritz, the New York market was strong yesterday. Business done: 4,500,000 shares. The Wall Street Journal reports:—The anticipated increase in automobile prices sent automobile stocks up, developing a general rally of the entire list which touched new highs for the year. Chain store reports showed improvement in sales for the month of April, and this also helped maintain the market. Brokers' loans were reported at $539,000,000, an increase of $51,000,000 as compared with last week's figure of $488,000,000. Time money was quoted at 3% to 1 1/2% for 60 and 90 days.

Douglas Fairbanks' new picture, "Mr.
Robinson Crusoe", now the feature
attraction at the King's Theatre, is
Chief Tupa, of the district of Mahina,
Tahiti, who traces his ancestry back
to the time when white men were unknown in the South Seas.

Chief Tupa plays the part of the cannibal chief and demonstrates an historic ability that may well be envied by Hollywood's trained character actors.

"All of the South Seas natives are
natural actors," said "Doug." "You
merely tell them what to do, and immediately they perform with the skill
of veterans. Rhythm and pantomime
seem to be among their birthrights."

In private life, the chief engages in
a very orderly though exciting line of endeavour. He is a pearl diver and fisherman, and holds the record for
time under water.

Goes Places!

Born in China, of an English father
and a Viennese mother; educated in England, France, Germany and Switzerland; beginning her screen
career in Hungary, petite, golden-
haired Sari Maritz, who's now on the
path to stardom in American moving
pictures, is a League of Nations all
by herself.

Sari, who's featured with Herbert
Marshall, Charlie Ruggles and Mary
Boland in "Evening for Sale," smart Viennese musical romance, which opens on Sunday at the Queen's Theatre is rated as one of the most promising of the new crop of Hollywood starlets. Her movie experience,
however, goes back several years, for
she has been featured for some time
in English, German and Hungarian
pictures.

Miss Maritz was born in Tientsin.
Her father was Major Walter Nathan,
chairman of the Peking Syndicate;
her mother a daughter of the first
commissioner of Customs in Tientsin
after the Boxer Rebellion. She has a host of uncles prominent in business
and diplomatic circles throughout the
world.

At the age of eighteen, she made her film debut in Hungary. This was followed by starring roles in England
and Germany. Her performance in a British-made picture, "Tow Way

Street," brought offers from American producers.

"Girl of the Rio"

Leo Carrillo is the sort of screen
bad man you like to meet. Swashbuckling by nature, ever ready to
play pranks or laugh at his own expense, he is really Hollywood's gayest enbeller. This brilliant star, who supports Dolores Del Rio in "Girl of
the Rio," opening to-morrow at the Central Theatre, has an unique family history. He is a direct descendant of
the Spanish Dons who ruled primitive California before the coming of the Anglo-Saxons. His grandfather was the first provisional Governor of the State of California.

"Face in the Sky"

While brilliant photography has come to be accepted as a matter of
course in modern motion picture

offerings, something out of the ordinary in this regard is promised in
"Face in the Sky," coming next Thursday to the King's Theatre.

Tracy-Marian Nixon-Stuart Erwin
feature is Lee Garmes, whose recent
winning of the Academy Award for his work on "Shanghai Express" marks him as Hollywood's foremost
film photographer.

The director is Harry Lachman,
who abandoned a spectacular career
in one of America's foremost painters
after receiving many distinctions
abroad, including the Legion of Honour, for the field of screen
direction. He brings to his work an unusual artistic sense.

With the talents of these men combined, the resulting photographic
effects and composition of the scenes
in "Face in the Sky" are said to mark
a long step forward in film artistry.

Offensive Breath.

You may not be aware that you
suffer from this unpleasant affliction.
But a glance at your tongue is a
good guide. If it is discoloured or furred then it is certain that your breath will be offensive. Your internal organs, liver and stomach,
need immediate attention. Pinkettes,
Liver and Laxative Perfection, will
soon remedy matters. Pinkettes
cleanse the food tract, tone up the liver and stomach. For all those
ills which result from constipation,
sick headaches, depression, dizziness,
loss of energy, liverishness, bilious
attacks, bad breath, pimples and boils,
you cannot use anything more pleas-
ingly effective than Pinkettes. All chemists can supply you.

A SPY'S WORK

OBJECTION TO HIS LIVING IN BRITAIN

London, May 4.

A former German spy had the distinction of having a debate in the House of Lords devoted to himself to-day, when the question of his residing in Britain cropped up. He is Captain Von Rintelen, whose permission to reside in Britain, Viscount Bertie was most anxious should be revoked.

Lord Bertie said that during the war Von Rintelen was a spy and saboteur against Britain and the Allies, for which he had served a sentence of four years' imprisonment in the United States. Lord Bertie quoted from a book by Von Rintelen describing how he entered America by means of a forged passport, and how incendiary bombs were placed in munition ships timed to explode after the ships were outside American waters.

The Earl of Lucan, replying on behalf of the Government, expressed the opinion that Von Rintelen's presence was not detrimental to Britain.

Baron Newton described how Von Rintelen was trapped into returning to Europe, by a telegram sent in the name of the German Government, by Admiral Sir Reginald Hall, and was taken prisoner on his arrival off Palestine.

Lord Bertie pressed that his motion for revocation of the permission to reside in Britain be taken to a division, and the motion was defeated by a margin of fourteen votes.—Reuter Special.

"I'll think it over."

"That's right!" He walked with her to the door. As he grasped the knob Mona raised her eyes uncertainly.

"May—may I ask who is doing me this honour?" She said timidly. Then she smiled, the formality of her question sounded like a motion picture caption.

Mr. Garretson smiled too. "You may. The gentleman in question is Barry Townsend." (To be Continued.)

CONTRACT BRIDGE

By W. E. McKenney

Providing for unusual distribution is what makes a successful bridge player. Following is one of the most cleverly played hands seen in a tournament.

The Bidding

South, the dealer, bid one spade. West passed, North without spade support, but with a good No Trump distribution, jumped the bid to two No Trump. One No Trump would have been a denial of any strength. East passes and South goes to three spades. North, with the knowledge that his partner holds at least a five-card spade suit, carries the contract to four spades.

The Play

West has the opening lead and from the jack ten nine of clubs, leads the jack, dummy plays the deuce, East starts his echo with the five and declarer wins the trick with the ace. It looks as if the natural play for the declarer is to start and lead trump, but the good player provides against unusual distribution. The declarer in this particular case led the jack of diamonds, West played the deuce, dummy the eight and East won the trick with the ace.

East has great hopes of making two spade tricks, he has already made the ace of diamonds, and before the declarer can get a chance to discard his hearts, he decides to cash his ace of hearts, which is very good defense on this particular hand. A small club is now led by East which is won by the declarer, with the king. Declarer leads the six of diamonds, West plays the three, dummy the nine spot, and East the four. The king of diamonds is returned from dummy, South discarding the six of clubs, and when West plays the five, he is marked with the queen. The queen of clubs is then returned from dummy, East discards the deuce of hearts and declarer trumps with the deuce of spades. A small spade is led and won

All claims against the steamer must be presented to the Underwriter on or before the 23rd May, 1933, or they will not be recognized. To comply with the General Bonded Warehouse Regulations consignees must have a Revenue Officer in attendance when damaged dutiable goods are examined.

All broken, chafed, and damaged Goods are to be left in the Godowns, where they will be examined on the 8th May, 1933, at 10 a.m., by Messrs. Goddard and Douglas.

No Fire Insurance has been effected.

Bills of Lading will be countersigned by GIBB, LIVINGSTON & CO., LTD. Agents. Hongkong, 2nd May, 1933.

in dummy with the ace. Declarer returns the ten of diamonds from dummy. East refuses to trump, discarding the six of hearts and declarer trumps with the five of spades. Declarer then leads the queen of spades. West discards the nine of clubs, dummy plays the eight of spades and East wins the trick with the king. East leads the jack of hearts, which is won in dummy with the king. A small heart is returned from dummy which East is forced to trump with the six of spades. South, the declarer, overtrumps with the seven and then leads the jack of spades, picking up East's ten.

While the hand might be classed as a double dummy play, it resulted in top score for the declarer.

ITALY'S DAVIS

YUGO-SLAVIA TWO MATCHES DOWN

Florence, May 4.

Italy and Yugo-Slavia began their first round Davis Cup tie to-day, when thanks to successes by Baron de Mompurgo and Stefani, Italy gained a winning lead of two matches to love.

Mompurgo, the ambidextrous player, was not seriously extended by Pancev, beyond a keen opening set which lasted 16 games. The Italian, however, won the second and third sets with comparative ease.

Stefani lost a set to Kukuljevic, but only after he had captured the first at 6-4, and the second without the loss of a game.

He came back stronger than ever in the fourth and conceded only two games.

Detailed scores were:
Baron de Mompurgo (Italy) beat Pancev 9-7, 6-3, 6-1
Stefani (Italy) beat Kukuljevic 6-1, 6-0, 3-6, 6-2.

FLAMES SPEEDILY SUBDUED

Shanghai, May 2.

That most dreaded enemy of seamen, fire broke out in the Number 2 hold of the Glen Luer Glen-shane as she was on her way here from Hongkong. The hold contained a large quantity of paper bales.

As soon as the fire was noticed, hoses were put over the side and water pumped into the hold to extinguish the flames. A couple of fire extinguishers were also brought into play, and the fire got under control and put out within a very short time.

AUSTRIAN COUP PLAN.

GOVERNMENT DETERMINED TO OPPOSE NAZIS

Vienna, May 4.
